Huge Tidal Wave Hits New Zealand

Strikes 60-Mile Stretch of East Coast Damaging Many Buildings and Roads

AUCKLAND, New Zealand, March 25 (AP).—Two huge tidal waves, estimated by some eyewitnesses at 30 feet high, today struck a 60-mile stretch of the east coast of North Island, New Zealand, wrecking many buildings and damaging roads and bridges.

The first wave struck the Poverty Bay coast at 8:30 a.m. local time (3:30 p.m. E.S.T., March 25), approximately an hour after the New Zealand observatory reported "a very severe earthquake some miles out to sea."

The second wave rolled into the bay an hour later.

Apart from the town of Gisborne, where some streets became salt water rivers four feet deep, the area affected was populated thinly, mainly by holidaymakers in summer cottages and some farming families.

Residents along the seashore, warned by the roar of the approaching wall of water, raced to higher land and no drownings were reported.

Gisborne, a town of about 16,000 population, is on the east coast of North Island, at the head of Poverty Bay, which is approximately 200 miles southeast of Auckland.

Bill States Powers Of Councils

May Pass By-Laws To Require Closing

Powers of municipal councils to proclaim half-day or all-day closing in any particular line of business are clarified in a bill introduced in the House last night by Labor Minister G. S. Pearson.

Under an amendment to the Shops Regulation and Weekly Half-Holiday Act, municipalities will have authority to pass by-laws requiring a half-day or a full-day closure for specific classes of shops during the whole or any part of the year.

In addition, councils will be required within 60 days to pass by-laws ordering full day closing of all shops in a classification in which 75 per cent of the shop owners petition for all-day closing.

Where full-day closing is ordered, no employer of a store will be permitted to be in the shop at any time during the day on which it is closed.

Where two or more public holidays occur in one week, observance of the weekly holiday will not apply.

Provision for certain shops to remain open for the sale of vegetables on the weekly holiday or the afternoon of the half-holiday will be removed.

Unions Attack B.C. Labor Bill

VANCOUVER, March 25 (CP).—British Columbia's proposed new labor bill was again attacked at a meeting of the Vancouver Labor Council (C.C.L.) tonight and unions readied themselves for a "publicity campaign to defeat Bill 39."

Harold Pritchett, B.C. president of the International Woodworkers of America, said the bill was a "most unacceptable document . . . with the yellow thread of company unions running through it."

H.M.C.S. Charlottetown Decommissioned

Veteran Warship Will Be Replaced By Victoria-Built Frigate Antigonish

Like hundreds of other Canadian warships which fought in the Battle of the Atlantic and which have since been stripped of their armament and towed to the auction bays of War Assets Corporation, the trim frigate, H.M.C.S. Charlottetown yesterday was decommissioned and relegated to the same fate.

For the trim Charlottetown—second to bear that name in the World War—was commissioned in April, 1944 and saw duty with the mid-ocean escort. The first Charlottetown, a corvette, was torpedoed early in the war.

Commanded by Commander W. C. Halliday, R.C.N., (R.) (retired), of Vancouver, the 2,800-ton frigate arrived on the West Coast March 29 of last year from Halifax by way of the Panama Canal.

A well-known ship on the Pacific Coast, Charlottetown has been commanded by Lieut.-Cmdr. J. E. Wolfenden, R.C.N. (R.), of Vancouver since April, 1946. The ship has made ports of call at Vancouver, Powell River, Ocean Falls, Prince Rupert, Ketchikan, Alaska; Nanaimo, Comox, Port Alberni, and many other towns and harbors on the British Columbia coast. All of this time she conducted training cruises for men of University Naval Training Divisions from across Canada and cruises for new entry men from H.M.C.S. Naden.

Having logged more than 20,000 nautical miles on the west coast, Charlottetown has been a busy ship. Her days now ended in the naval service, she will be replaced by another veteran of Atlantic wartime days, the frigate H.M.C.S. Antigonish. Antigonish is a Yarrows, Ltd. of Victoria built ship. She will be manned by the crew of the decommissioned Charlottetown and continue training cruises on the west coast.

Twenty-Two Miners Die, Scores Are Entombed In Illinois Mine Blast

Rescue Teams Search Workings for 85 Men Still Missing — Hope for Survivors Low

CENTRALIA, Ill., March 26 (Wednesday) (AP).—Coal miners trapped 540 feet underground by an explosion Tuesday afternoon were still in the mine with little or no hope of survival early today.

CENTRALIA, Ill., March 25 (AP).—Twenty-two coal miners were reported tonight to have been killed in a mid-afternoon underground explosion and rescue teams were trying to get to scores of others trapped 540 feet below the surface.

Twenty-four miners had been brought out alive by 10:30 p.m. C.S.T., leaving 85 men unaccounted for. A total of 131 miners were in the mine when the explosion occurred.

Ed Wick, news editor of the Mt. Carmel, Ill., Republican Register, said he heard Driscoll Scanlon, Illinois State Mine Inspector, tell State Police Captain R. C. Winder that he counted 21 dead in the mine. The body of one other miner had already been recovered.

The explosion occurred about 1:30 p.m. (P.S.T.), and men and equipment were promptly summoned to cope with the disaster.

State police took charge, and set up ropes to hold back relatives of the trapped men and others who crowded around the shaft of the single-level mine, which is one mile south of Centralia.

It is the Centralia Coal Company Mine No. 55, and normally employs 230 men. Elmer N. Baird, a foreman, said 131 were underground at the time of the blast, and that 14 had been brought up, including the body of Mark Watson, 74.

The explosion, believed caused by dust, temporarily disabled the mine elevator and broke off telephone connection with the open. Elevator service was restored later and rescue workers descended into the shaft.

The last major disaster in an Illinois mine was on December 13, 1932, when 54 miners perished at Mowesqua. The worst Illinois mine disaster was at Cherry on November 13, 1909, when 259 miners were killed.

Some miners were reported trapped as far as four miles back from the shaft of the single-level mine, which normally employs 230 workers. The entire day shift of 125 was at work when the explosion occurred, although some witnesses said that the mine cage had just discharged about 10 men at the mine entrance.

Rescue workers who entered the mine sent out no word of their progress their first hour underground. The extent of casualties or injuries was not established immediately.

The report of one known dead was made by The Centralia Sentinel and a hospital spokesman. The hospital said three persons were injured.

Roy Seis, a tavern operator near the mine, said there was an explosion shortly after about 10 members of the day shift had reached the surface in the cage. He said rescue workers had gone into the mine in an effort to reach the men reported trapped.

Seis said some miners told him there had been an explosion at the pumping station on the floor of the mine about a quarter of a mile from the lift.

W. P. Young, vice-president of the Bell & Zoller Coal and Mining Company, mine agents, said in Chicago the mine elevator subsequently was restored to service and that eight rescue workers had entered the mine.

Young estimated 130 men were in the mine when an explosion occurred.

Heads Prices Board

KENNETH W. TAYLOR

Whose appointment as head of the W.P.T.B. has been announced recently by Prime Minister Mackenzie King. He succeeds Donald Gordon, who will return to his prewar job as deputy governor of the Bank of Canada.

To Set Time For All B.C.

Mandatory, province-wide daylight saving time will be introduced by order in council within the next few days, it was announced last night by Municipal Affairs Minister R. C. MacDonald.

Daylight saving will go into effect Sunday, April 27, the minister said, the same date on which Vancouver planned to bring it into effect.

The move follows a recommendation of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities adopted at the Harrison Hot Springs convention last September.

Commented Mayor Percy E. George: "This should prove a very popular move. Hundreds of organizations and individuals here have asked for daylight saving."

Making it province-wide, he said, would save a great deal of chaos for those who travel.

Loyalists Attack Rebel Positions

ASUNCION, Paraguay, March 24 (AP).—Paraguayan Government forces were reported tonight to have launched an attack against rebel positions in Ybapobo, 16 miles south of the insurgents' stronghold of Concepcion.

The report, which thus far had not been confirmed in Government quarters, said the attack of the Government troops was supported by planes and by torpedo boats operating on the Paraguay River.

Policyholders To Get Cards

Legislation to pave the way for the introduction of the Manitoba plan of automobile safety responsibility was introduced in the House last night.

An amendment to the Insurance Act brought down by Premier John Hart, for Attorney-General Gordon Wismer, will require companies issuing motor vehicle liability coverage to supply the policyholder with a card setting out particulars of the coverage, and copies of the card for any other persons who commonly drive the insured vehicle.

This is part of the scheme in operation in Manitoba and to be reproduced in British Columbia this year, calling for the grounding of the driver and cancellation of the vehicle licence in all accident cases involving death, injury, or property damage over $25, until damages claims are satisfied and proof of financial responsibility is produced.

Licences will not be suspended, however, if the driver involved can produce an automobile liability insurance card, or proof of financial responsibility.

Former Premier Of France Guilty

PARIS, March 25 (AP).—Camille Chautemps, three times Premier of France, was convicted in absentia tonight of committing acts harmful to his country's national dignity and sentenced to five years' imprisonment by a purge court at Versailles.

May Call Bevin To Meet Crisis

LONDON, March 26 (Wednesday) (Reuters).—A report that Foreign Secretary Bevin may leave the Foreign Office to devote all his time to Britain's economic crisis was published today by The News Chronicle, Liberal newspaper, under the heading "Bevin may be planner-in-chief."

The newspaper said it was strongly rumored in high Government circles that Bevin would make the switch to domestic politics when he returns from the present Council of Foreign Ministers in Moscow.

"Prime Minister Attlee, it is believed, will ask him to take personal charge of the cabinet's plans for dealing with the economic crisis.

"The idea, it is understood, is that Bevin will be given the top-level job of seeing that all the Government's production schemes are properly co-ordinated, that the various priorities are rigorously pushed through against all departmental obstruction, that shortages are made up and manpower mobilized in the most effective manner as quickly as possible no matter what employers, trade unions and other sectional interests may say."

The paper said that if Bevin leaves the Foreign Office it is believed he will be replaced there by Hugh Dalton, now Chancellor of the Exchequer, and that Sir Stafford Cripps, now president of the Board of Trade, will go to the Treasury.

Flu Closes Ten Schools

ALBANY, N.Y., March 25 (AP).—At least 10 schools were closed and many others throughout upper New York State were left half empty today by what officials described as a mild type of influenza.

Iran Turns Down Russian Request

TEHRAN, March 25 (AP). — Informed political quarters said today indications were that the Majlis (Parliament) will turn thumbs down on proposals to grant oil concessions in Northern Iran to Russia.

British Infantry Discards Scarlet

LONDON, March 26 (Wednesday) (AP).—British infantry soldiers will discard their dress parade "red coats" for uniforms of green or blue. Scarlet cloth costs more, War Minister Frederick Bellenger said today.

$242,504 Contemplated For Parks During Year

Victoria parks department will cost the city $242,504 during 1947 if preliminary estimates are approved by the City Council, it was announced yesterday by Ald. D. D. McTavish, parks committee chairman.

The parks department meeting was held yesterday in the home of Ald. McTavish, who returned to his home from the hospital earlier this week.

No comparison with expenditures for last year were available, although the breakdown of expenditures indicated a considerable jump over last year.

The committee listed new work amounting to $55,000, and miscellaneous parks expenditures of $15,707 compared with $10,935 for last year. Included in this figure was a jump in playground supervision expenses from $1,808 last year to $4,000 this year. Major portion of the increase is due, the chairman said, to the fact that the number of supervised playgrounds will be increased from four to nine.

Salaries for parks maintenance and improvement show a jump from $13,987 to $17,749 while office expenses have increased from $1,505 to $5,476. Expenditures for Ross Bay Cemetery are listed at $8,848 compared to $8,797 for last year.

Street Fishing Good in Erie

ERIE, Pa., March 25 (AP).—Huge waves from Lake Erie spilled fish into a street fronting the Erie Public Dock today as the city was struck by a Spring blizzard propelled by winds of gale intensity.

Citizens picked up flopping fish in State Street where it fronts on the dock. One youngster exhibited a five-pound black bass.

Russians Veto Albania Issue

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., March 25 (AP).—Andrei A. Gromyko today cast Russia's tenth veto in the United Nations Security Council to defeat a majority verdict against Albania for the mine-blasting of two British destroyers in which 44 Royal Navy sailors were killed in Corfu Channel last October 22.

Gromyko raised his hand in the negative on a British resolution holding that the mines could not have been laid "without the knowledge of the Albanian authorities."

Then, with special consent to make a statement, Gromyko lashed at the Greek Government for what he called its failure to provide proper protection for the Soviet members of the United Nations commission investigating conditions in the Balkans.

Sir Alexander Cadogan, British delegate, served notice off the floor that his Government now would seek to have the case sent to the International Court of Justice, a course he previously had rejected.

In the Albanian case, which still remains on the council calendar and will come up again in the near future Britain brought the formal charge January 10 that Albania had laid a minefield in the channel between the Greek Island of Corfu and the Albanian mainland. Britain demanded apologies and compensation from Albania for the damages and deaths.

Vancouver Act Given Reading

The Vancouver Enabling Act got second reading in the Legislature last night with no opposition. Harold Winch, C.C.F. leader, stating he would support the measure, believing in public ownership of the transportation system.

The act would make it easier to take over the system after a period of years and meanwhile would enable the company to proceed with modernization of equipment.

Three Gunmen Get Big Haul

SEATTLE, March 25 (AP).—Three armed men escaped with $17,000 today after holding up Miss Joan Heffley, cashier, in the McDougall & Southwick department store. Police said the loot was in cash and checks.

Builders Here Criticize New Plan To Stimulate Low-Rental Housing

OTTAWA, March 25 (CP).—In an effort to stimulate construction of rental housing, the Government announced today that it will double the rates of depreciation for rental housing projects and their equipment built or acquired between March 31, 1947, and December 31, 1949.

Reconstruction Minister Howe, tabling an enabling order-in-council in the Commons, said the move recognized that "our supply of new rental housing is proportionately too low and there is a great need for this type of dwelling" and also the fact that "perhaps the principal reason for the reluctance of private owners to enter this field is their belief that present capitalized costs may be high in relation to stabilized rents."

Under the order, a rental property owner will be entitled to deduct from his income tax return twice as much as he now can for depreciation of his property. Current rates for buildings vary between two and five per cent, depending on the type of structure. In the case of equipment, the rates vary from five to ten per cent.

In other words, the order gives capital investment a warmer invitation for return.

On a $14,000 building, considered apart from any equipment within, an owner could thus chop off as much as $1,400 a year from his income for tax purposes.

The double depreciation will continue for ten years on projects consisting of four or more family dwelling units which meet Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation specifications, which rent for less than $70 a month per unit, which give veterans' preference and have an average of 1.75 bedrooms per unit.

Under questioning by Donald Fleming (P.C., Toronto-Eglinton), the minister said the order applied to single houses, but if the owner was an occupant of his house it must be a four-family house. In other words, it did not apply to a duplex where the owner was also a tenant. If the owner was not a tenant, it applied to a duplex or any unit.

Two Victoria builders said last night they could see no possible advantage in the Government's new scheme.

Victor Leigh, president of the Victoria Builders' Exchange, said: "I cannot see what benefit Victoria will derive from such a move."

Another builders' exchange member, Lester Scott, said: "In my opinion such an order will only tend to fog up the situation worse than ever."

Mr. Scott maintained that the plan would not benefit the "little man" or low wage earner. Persons building houses on speculation will not construct low rental houses, according to Mr. Scott.

"The Government should leave the situation alone for the time being, other wise building materials will be taken out of legitimate lines," he stated.

Asserts Stalin Could End War

NEW YORK, March 25 (AP).—Herbert Hoover told a Greek war relief dinner tonight that a large part of the "chaos and misery" in Greece "could be lifted by one man in the world if he is willing," adding:

"That man is Marshal Joseph Stalin."

"It is within his power," continued the former President in a prepared broadcast speech, "to stop the aggressive war in the form of guerrilla raids from Yugoslavian, Bulgarian and Albanian territory.

"It is within his power to see that the Communist bands in Greece stop killing and abide by constitutional means to express their views.

"That would bring peace to Greece. Then American aid could be devoted to restoring productivity of the Greek people instead of our wasting our generosity on military equipment."

Share in German Peace Is Right of All Nations

MOSCOW, March 25 (CP). — The Council of Foreign Ministers today discussed a question in which Canada is vitally interested—just who is going to have a voice in the German peace treaty. But there still was no decision.

State Secretary Marshall of the United States told the four-power council that no state which contributed to victory should be denied a voice in the treaty-making—something Canada has contended with vigor.

For practical reasons, Marshall said, it was obvious that all Allies could not be permitted the same degree of participation but the United States was hopeful that all countries at war with Germany be permitted some degree.

No amplification of this suggestion was given but it was expected that when the question of membership on the conference committees—to which Canada wants the right to belong—comes up, Marshall will elaborate.

Marshall said he welcomed the French proposal for an information and consultation conference which he said should simply be a channel of information for the Allies and would have no powers for recommendation. He felt all countries at war with Germany should be represented at this conference, which in fact, would be a committee.

Georges Bidault, French Foreign Minister, suggested a second proposal for participation. He said there should be two categories:

1. The most interested countries.
2. Those countries who declared war on Germany but had not a great interest or had not made a great contribution to victory.

The first category would join the information and consultation conference and participate in the work of permanent committees; the second would be given the chance to present their views to the Council of Foreign Ministers.

U.S. Officials Denying Reports Of Plot to Start Revolution

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP).—The State Department issued a statement tonight saying it "knows of no plot" to overthrow the Governments of Costa Rica, Nicaragua and Honduras.

Earlier a diplomat told reporters that the department had been informed of such a plot and that two other Latin American countries were alleged to be involved in it.

This official withheld the use of his name.

Ambassadors of Costa Rica, Nicaragua and Honduras did call Saturday to see Dean Acheson, undersecretary of state, the department said. Its statement continued:

"They left a memorandum with Mr. Acheson. This memorandum simply reiterated what had been published previously with reference to unauthorized arms shipments which were seized in Mexico and New Orleans.

"The memorandum did not attach responsibility for such shipments to any other country. Its purpose was merely to bring officially to the attention of the department of these previously mentioned reports.

"The department knows of no plot to overthrow the Governments of these three countries."

A department spokesman said the seizure of arms in Mexico was made early in February. The weapons involved were mostly small arms, he said, and two Nicaraguans were reported to be involved.

One was identified as an employee of the Guatemalan Government, the other as a Nicaraguan exile in Mexico City.

Bills Aimed at Curbing Some Groups' Activities

Aimed at curbing the activities of certain mutual benefit associations and groups paying death benefits on an assessment basis, legislation was introduced in the House last night by Attorney-General Gordon Wismer to amend the Insurance Act and rewrite the Societies Act.

The two bills implement many of the recommendations of the Cowan and Grimmett Royal Commissions which recently made exhaustive reports to the Government.

In future any benefit organization, other than an assessment society, will be required to be licensed under the Insurance Act, bringing it under the supervision of the superintendent of insurance.

Assessment groups will be brought under strict control, and no groups of that type not now in existence will be incorporated.

An assessment group whose membership falls below 50 per cent of that authorized will lose its licence.

Permanent proxies will not be allowed, and associations will be required to submit annual statements and balance sheets to their members.

Power will be given to the Attorney-General to order an investigation of the affairs of any society if in the opinion of the registrar it exists for an illegal purpose or is not carried on in a proper manner, or is likely to become insolvent.

Control by regulation also will be provided over the terms and conditions of contracts and the fees and dues payable to any society by its members.

Benefit groups will not be permitted to cancel or vary any of the terms of their contracts without authority.

Under the Insurance Act amendment wide powers will be given to the superintendent of insurance to "require a society . . . to amend its charter and regulations so as to include any provision thought advisable by him for the actuarial soundness of the society, the proper treatment of its members, or any other purpose."

Right is provided, however, for appeal to the Lieutenant-Governor in council from requirements by the superintendent under this section.

Assessment groups will be required to maintain an advance assessment fund for the payment of claims.

Evelyn Dick Found Guilty

HAMILTON, March 25 (CP) — Mrs. Evelyn Dick, central figure in one of the most startling murder cases in Hamilton history, tonight was convicted of manslaughter in the slaying of her baby, Peter Donald White MacLean, and will be sentenced tomorrow.

Trail of the 27-year-old widow, convicted last Fall of the torso-slaying of her husband, John Dick, only to be acquitted at a second trial earlier this month, lasted two days.

Setting of sentence was delayed to 10 a.m. tomorrow morning after her counsel, John J. Robinette, of Toronto, had asked leave to present "additional medical evidence"—a request which Mr. Justice A. M. LeBel granted for tomorrow and asked the jury to be on hand then.

It was believed that the additional evidence was of a psychiatric nature, which possibly might have some effect on the sentence in the baby case.

Mrs. Dick, as usual, showed no emotion when the verdict was pronounced, although the courtroom was tense. After the foreman of the jury sat down Mr. Robinette turned to her and said with a smile: "It's all right."

Besides the sentence tomorrow in the baby's death, Mrs. Dick still has to await the outcome of the charges in the Dick slaying. The Crown has announced it will appeal the verdict of acquittal at her second trial for the murder of her husband.

The trial, in which the Crown sought to prove that Mrs. Dick killed the baby boy, encased it in cement and hid it in a suitcase in her attic, lasted two days. The body when found had a heavy noose of cord drawn tightly about the neck.

Defence Counsel John J. Robinette, of Toronto, said in his address to the jury that the Crown had not proved the baby in the suitcase was Mrs. Dick's, nor that she had killed it. He declared the evidence was entirely circumstantial.

Mr. Robinette said the evidence pointed to someone else as the baby-killer—perhaps Donald MacLean, the accused's father, who had said he did not want the baby in his house, or the unknown father of the child.

Crown Counsel T. J. Rigney said he could not accept a defence suggestion that there was no evidence of murder. The noose around the dead child's neck was smaller than the circumference of a normal child's neck.

Ottawa Considers Rental Controls

OTTAWA, March 25 (CP).—Finance Minister Abbott, answering a series of questions, reiterated tonight in the Commons that rent controls had been and still were under extensive consideration by the Government.

He was replying to Donald Fleming (P.C., Toronto-Eglinton), who asked what objective had been set by the Government regarding the lifting of controls and whether they would be removed on a national or regional basis as conditions improved.

Mr. Abbott said he had indicated on previous occasions that the Government did not plan to lift rent and eviction controls as long as the serious housing situation existed.

So far it had not been found desirable to make changes on a regional basis and he could not prophesy when the housing situation would reach the point where the controls could be relaxed or removed. No one would be happier than himself to see the controls go.

Howard Green (P.C., Vancouver South) asked if there had been any discussion on the possibility of the provinces taking over control of rentals and Mr. Abbott replied that he was not aware of any such discussions, but he thought the idea might be worth exploring.

OTTAWA, March 25 (CP).—A delegation representing landlords throughout Canada called on Finance Minister Abbott today and presented for his consideration a lengthy brief urging that rentals and eviction controls be eased.

Gestapo Danger Cited by Chifley

CANBERRA, March 25 (Reuters). —Prime Minister Chifley today warned of the danger of setting up in Australia the "equivalent of the Gestapo," when he was asked to institute a Commonwealth Police Service Inquiry, similar to that announced for the United States.

Chifley, speaking in the House of Representatives, said:

"As to whether the Government here is prepared to undertake such a purge, it might be setting up the equivalent of the Gestapo. The world's history shows that such organizations can come into wrong hands and be very easily used to damage people who themselves have no connection with the Communist Party.

"I agree hat action should be taken to ensure we get the right types for public service, but we have to take care that we do not get into the same position as Germany."

Eerie Light Unexplained

HONOLULU, March 25 (AP). — An Eerie light which no one has explained appears nightly aboard the deserted stern section of the Tanker Fort Dearborn, which broke in half at sea March 12.

The captain of the navy tug Lipan, which is towing the section toward Pearl Harbor, radioed the Hawaiian Sea Frontier today:

"Suggest hulk be searched on arrival (Sunday) as light observed every night which appears to be lantern. There is no one aboard to my knowledge. Hulk inspected for water tightness and all compartments were dark and all ports closed. Two ports are open this morning."

Twenty-two men were rescued from the stern and ten from the bow section. Twelve men, all reported to have leaped overboard in terror immediately after the tanker's bow tore off in heavy seas, are missing and presumed drowned.

United States Fleet to Visit Mediterranean

THE United States Navy has announced that a naval task force of 12 ships, under the command of Vice-Admiral Bernard H. Bieri, will make a "Spring visit" to Greek and Turkish waters, as shown on map. The task force, led by the aircraft carrier Leyte, will include three light cruisers and six destroyers. Ports of call on the itinerary of the flotilla are Gibraltar (1); Naples, Italy (2); Suda Bay off Crete (3); the Dardanelles and the Turkish port of Istanbul (4), and (5) Alexandria and the Suez Canal. Admiral Richard L. Connolly, commander of the Twelfth Fleet and of all naval forces in European waters, stated that he had recommended to the Navy Department two months ago that such calls be made in the course of a program of visits to all parts of the Mediterranean. Observers recalled that such "good-will" voyages have been staged by the navy before in times of crisis—as in the case of Trieste.

Mouth-Watering Maple Syrup May Be Plentiful This Year

TORONTO, March 26 (CP).—If you like lots of maple syrup on your pancakes you may be able to apply it more liberally this year. Now that the sap is running again in the maple-sugar bushes of Ontario, there are early signs that the yield will be the best in years.

A Canadian Press survey shows that production in 1947 may come close to that of prewar years when Ontario produced an average of 580,000 gallons annually in the five-year period 1935-39, then slipped to a low of 124,000 gallons in 1945. Last year the total was 236,000 gallons.

Total production this year may be between 400,000 and 450,000 gallons, said an official of the Food Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

Both supply and demand, however, depend on a couple of "ifs"—if suitable weather holds out to ensure a free running of the sap, and if the price is not prohibitive. Maple syrup now is unrationed and the price ceiling is off.

And with the ceiling off, in centres where this toothsome product has reached the market in small quantities prices ranging from $4 to $7 a gallon have had an apparent effect on sales. The ceiling price last year was $3.45 a gallon plus freight costs for the best grade. Increase in the output is expected to keep the price within reasonable bounds.

Pal Ogopogo Seen Again

PENTICTON, March 25 (CP).—Spring, and Ogopogo, have returned to Interior British Columbia.

According to Indian legend, Ogopogo is a sea serpent living in Okanagan Lake and was frightening Indians before the white man first crossed the Rockies.

Sunday, he turned up again.

Eric Beardmore was returning by car from Naramata, B.C., when he noticed a disturbance in the calm water about a mile from shore. Stopping his car, Mr. Beardmore says, he saw the monster, which had no definite shape at that distance, gambolling in the deep.

Reliable sources have reported seeing Ogopogo many times and once, in 1937, two Vernon men swore that their boat was bumped by the monster as "black coils swirled below the surface."

No one, however, has yet taken Ogo's picture.

NAMED EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

VANCOUVER, March 25 (CP).—The appointment of 21-year-old Donald C. Ferguson, of Vancouver, third year arts students, as editor-in-chief of the University of British Columbia Student Publications Board next year was announced tonight. The Student Board also discussed the possibility of making the Ubyssey, student newspaper, a daily next year. It is a tri-weekly at present.

Patient Dies In Ward Fire

STEILACOOM, Wash., March 25 (AP).—One patient perished and an attendant was injured early today when flames destroyed a four-ward wing, occupied by male patients, at the Western State Hospital, a mental institution at this Tacoma suburb.

Attendants led 230 others to safety, averting panic by their calmness. Hospital authorities said five patients, none deemed harmful, escaped during the fire and two were found shortly after.

The body of Batiste Barra, 38, held for transfer to Edgard, La., was found on the top floor when the blaze was extinguished after nearly four hours' battling.

Royal Gobel, 45, a hospital employee, suffered a leg fracture when struck by a brick as the walls were being torn down after the blaze.

An hour after the fire broke out, from an undetermined origin, a patient was seen pounding on a barred window on the top floor. A cable was carried up a ladder and the casing pulled out, so he could be lowered to safety.

HAWAIIAN SUPERMEN

Early Hawaiian chiefs often were physical giants, weighing 300 to 500 pounds.

Ring of Sunken Army Tanks Wins British Flood Battle

LONDON, March 25 (AP).—Britain's worst floods in 300 years receded by inches tonight, leaving wide areas of devastation and an agricultural crisis that may slash home food production for at least two years.

The Government put £1,000,000 ($4,000,000) into a national relief fund for thousands of farmers and home owners suffering flood losses.

"The battle of the earth gap has been won," Brig. E. E. Read, messaged from the flooded fens, where the swollen Ouse River burst its banks, inundating thousands of acres of some of England's best farmland.

Tonight the torrent—dammed by a ring of sunken army tanks—was reduced to a small stream.

Conditions still were critical in the vicinity of Lincolnshire, in Central England, where the swollen River Witham, threatened to break through a levee six miles north of Boston.

In Yorkshire officials postponed plans to evacuate the town of Selby, a community of 10,000, following reports the flood waters were receding. Tonight the town was without gas or electricity. Along the Thames official reports said the level of the river was falling steadily.

Wins Record Football Pool

ABERDEEN, March 25 (Reuters). — Edward Cross, 34-year-old bachelor bus driver, paid his penny and marked down on a little green pamphlet his predicted scores for the week-end soccer games. Today he received word he had won £61,456 (about $245,824), described as a world record football pool.

After jotting down his scores, Cross stuck the pamphlet in his pocket and "almost forgot to mail it," he said.

He expects to give up his job and "do a bit of farming."

Howe Predicts Lumber Record

OTTAWA, March 25 (CP).—Reconstruction Minister Howe predicted tonight the Dominion's 1947 production of lumber would exceed the record 1946 output of 5,000,000,000 board feet.

He also forecast that during the current construction year retail lumber outlets would have increased quantities available, while at the same time Canada would be able to provide "substantial amounts" for her export markets.

Dispelling "rumors" that a preference of top-grade lumber had been allocated to the export market, the minister said export shippers must limit their shipment of "clear" lumber to 10 per cent of total shipment to export markets, and that shipment of scarce items such as doors, flooring and millwork is prohibited.

These restrictions were outlined in a timber controller's directive. The majority of "clear" production came from the Vancouver district, where the bulk of clear fir, hemlock and Sitka spruce lumber is produced. In other parts of Canada, a substantial proportion of timber of the softwood variety is channelled into Canadian manufacturing and industrial outlets.

Flood Cleaning Materials Sent

FRANKFURT, March 25 (Reuters).—More than 100,000 pounds of soap, 6,000 pounds of disinfectant, 2,000 scrub brushes and 1,000 brooms will be flown to Britain tomorrow from the American zone in Germany to help clean up after the floods.

. . Oddities . .

BOSTON, March 25 (AP).—So enthused were members of a women's delegation today that they talked for 20 minutes about the necessity for segregating mental patients—before they learned they were addressing the wrong legislative committee.

However, they moved into the next hall and started all over again.

HUNTINGTON PARK, Calif., March 25 (AP).—The Housing shortage has forced the mayor out of office.

Wendell W. Schooling said today he was resigning effective April 1, because he has been forced to move to Long Beach. He couldn't find a house here.

TORONTO, March 25 (CP).—Lack of conventional material is no handicap for Mrs. Garden, wife of a Toronto circus owner and designer of costumes for the show.

One of her major triumphs in substitutes is the creation of eight drum-major hats—each crowned with a dyed dish-mop.

Savage Storm Hits U.S. Causing 14 Fatalities

CHICAGO, March 25 (AP).—A savage March storm moved eastward to New York State today, causing at least 14 deaths, property damage of many thousands of dollars and leaving a paralyzing blanket of snow across much of the Midwestern United States. It also hit Ontario.

Jamestown, N.Y., was hit by a [illegible] trees and power lines. New England was warned to expect gales of 60 miles an hour. In Buffalo, N.Y., the barometer fell to the lowest in the 76-year history of the Weather Bureau.

The early Spring storm, which gave some Midwest States a worse buffetting than anything they experienced during the Winter, crippled communications, stalled trains, impeded highway and air traffic and closed many schools and factories.

Winds ranging from 50 to 80 miles an hour, with gusts occasionally as high as 80, uprooted trees, snapped power lines and damaged homes and buildings. Temperatures dropped abruptly as the storm hit.

Storm deaths were caused by electrocutions from broken power lines, exposure, a wind-toppled tree and a farmhouse fire that firemen couldn't reach for two hours because of the blizzard.

High winds continued to plague the Midwest in the wake of the storm [illegible] ways.

By The Canadian Press

A storm from Missouri caught Ontario dreaming of green grass and Easter bonnets yesterday and left the province reeling from the impact.

It swept northeastward, rippling through Windsor and London at close to 70 miles an hour, changed a Spring rain to a real Winter snowstorm and drove fresh snow into highway-clogging drifts. It reached into Northern Ontario to jam roads as far north as Timmins and extended east to Ottawa.

It blew a Toronto bus off the street and into the side of a house, injuring three people and partly wrecking the dwelling. It ripped most of the roof off St. Vincent de Paul Church in North Bay. It snarled bus services and toppled power lines in the Sarnia district.

At the height of the storm a bus carrying 24 Lindsay hockey players and supporters crashed into a railway bridge abutment near St. Catharines. Eight persons were injured, one severely.

The storm led Sudbury school authorities to close all elementary schools. Secondary schools remained [illegible] per cent.

Trans-Canada Air Lines canceled flights from Toronto, and numerous bus schedules throughout the province also were canceled.

ALLOWANCES INCREASED

VANCOUVER, March 25 (CP).—The rising cost of living was recognized by city council's finance committee here today when members approved a recommendation to increase expense allowances for aldermen and city officials visiting centres outside British Columbia on civic business. Allowances were increased from $10 to $12.50 per day.

Extra Sailings Are Scheduled For Heavy Travel at Easter

To meet anticipated heavy Easter holiday travel between Victoria and Vancouver, the C.P.R. will operate two extra ships between the two cities on Good Friday and Easter Monday, it was announced yesterday by R. L. Burland, district passenger agent.

On Good Friday the Princess Adelaide will leave Victoria for Vancouver at 4:30 p.m. The Princess Victoria will leave this city at 1 p.m. on Easter Monday for Vancouver.

From Vancouver, extra sailings to Victoria will leave at 10:30 a.m. on Good Friday, and 6:15 p.m. on Easter Monday. Extra sailings have also been scheduled for the Nanaimo-Vancouver service.

"All these extra sailings," emphasized Mr. Burland, "are in addition to the regular services."

PREMIERE HERE

All-Canadian premiere of the new film "Klee Wyck," based on the life and work of Emily Carr, will be shown in Victoria, Thursday, April 17, it was announced here yesterday.

The Canadian National Film Board movie on the well-known Victoria painter has been brought to the city by the Little Centre, and will be exhibited in the ballroom of the Empress Hotel.

Ira Dilworth, British Columbia director of the C.B.C., will be guest speaker of the evening and will give a special address.

Until April 15, only members of the Little Centre may purchase tickets for the showing. After that time, tickets will be sold to the general public.

'QUAKE RECORDED

An earthquake of moderate intensity with its epicentre approximately 4,300 miles from Victoria in an undetermined direction was recorded at the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory, Saanich, yesterday.

Dr. K. O. Wright, seismologist, said the first shock was recorded at 12:57:05 p.m., P.S.T., and the long wave arrived at 1:22:50.

Dr. Charles F. Richter, of the California Institute of Technology at Pasadena, said the direction of the quake was undetermined, but called it the largest shock in recent months, according to an Associated Press report.

WARSHIPS RETURNING

Completing a combined goodwill and training cruise that took them as far south as the Panama Canal, the cruiser H.M.C.S. Uganda and destroyer H.M.C.S. Crescent will reach Esquimalt naval base at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning, naval officials announced yesterday.

The ships of war will dock at the Naden side of the naval harbor, at the Government wharves. Friends and relatives of men serving on board the vessels will be able to watch the ships enter Esquimalt from H.M.C. Dockyard. Gates will also be opened to persons wishing to meet relatives or friends.

PAINTING DISPLAYED

An interesting collection of the paintings and sketches of Mrs. Sophie Deane-Drummond, well-known Victoria artist, is now on display in the Little Centre in a special loan exhibition. The paintings have been loaned by F. J. Pemberton and Mrs. W. Curtis Sampson.

The works exhibited give an excellent example of the scope of Mrs. Deane-Drummond's talents, and include very fine oil portraits, landscapes, water color and charcoal sketches.

VETERANS WARNED

A warning to veterans against misuse of their re-establishment credits was issued yesterday in Ottawa by Veterans' Affairs Minister Ian Mackenzie, it was announced here by S. H. Okell, deputy district D.V.A. administrator.

Mr. Mackenzie pointed out the War Service Grants Act "provides for heavy penalties for any form of aid to veterans other than those provided in the act."

KIWANIS VISITORS

Six out-of-town members of the Kiwanis Club were guests yesterday at a regular luncheon meeting of the Victoria club at the Empress Hotel. They were H. Fairley, Calgary; Bill Wells, Saskatoon; Austin Blaine, Edmonton; George Miller and J. P. Saunders, Winnipeg, and Thornton Grehem, Saskatoon.

TO VISIT SEATTLE

More than 30 scouts from the First Fairfield Troop will proceed to Seattle April 18 to participate in the "All Canada Day" to be held in connection with an indoor sports show, Freeman King, field commissioner, said last night.

The group will be in charge of Scoutmaster Dick Warner, and will remain in Seattle until the following Sunday.

The main part of the Canadian show will be held in the Seattle Civic Auditorium under the sponsorship of The Seattle Times. Officials from several British Columbia cities have expressed their intention of attending the event.

WILL REPLANT TREES

Thirty senior scouts from Victoria will go to Sooke on April 5 to replant trees in the area burned by forest fire last Summer, Freeman King, field commissioner, said last night.

The group will work for about five days, before returning to the city, and during that period will take instruction in camping and other scout work. Mr. King will be in charge.

Greece Owed Great Debt Says Mayor

In commemoration of the 126th anniversary of Greek Independence, members of the Victory Branch of the Anglo-Hellenic Educational Progressive Association in Victoria, embracing the Greek community in the city, last night attended an Independence Day banquet at the Empress Hotel.

George Doulis, A.H.E.P.A. chapter president in Victoria, first to address the meeting, pointed out that it was being held in honor of the tiny group of men, who under their leader-priest Pappaflassas, brought independence to their country.

Mayor Percy E. George, who represented the city at the dinner, spoke on the heritage of Greece in modern culture, and said the world "owes Greece a great debt of gratitude."

H. Cuthbert Holmes, president of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, echoed Mayor George's statement.

"There is no race in the world today that has contributed so much to the modern world," he said. "Britain has a proud link with Greece, and both countries stand for one great ideal, freedom of the soul."

Col. E. C. Tutt, national chairman of the forthcoming Greek War Relief Fund Drive, spoke on the need for Canada to aid Greece as much as possible in this time of need.

Professor Rodney Poisson, of Victoria College, guest speaker, traced the great history of the Greeks from their first victories over the Persians until their independence in 1821.

Dr. L. G. Polymenakos, former Greek deputy minister of health, now in Canada in connection with the Greek Red Cross, spoke briefly outlining many of the problems facing modern Greece.

William Rapanos acted as chairman for the evening, and among those in attendance were Attorney-General and Mrs. Wismer.

NORTHERN LIGHTS

Observant Victorians last night witnessed a remarkable display of northern lights.

Prancing rays of light adorned the northern section of the heavens for several hours, but disappeared toward morning.

According to several onlooker in downtown streets, last night's display was only one of many this Winter.

Suggested as Temporary City Hall

The new city hall committee, headed by Ald. Edward Williams, will investigate the possibility of taking over the Belmont Building, pictured above, within the next year for use as a combination City Hall and Library. The structure has eight floors and a basement, each floor having 22 offices, 16 outside and six inside. In addition, it has three working elevators. Most of the ground floor space is rented to seven stores, and it is estimated that $1,000 a month revenue could come to the city from such rentals.

"Flower Day" Here to Help Solarium Solves Problem of Surplus Daffodils

On the large bulb farms of Saanich there are now so many daffodils that growers don't know what to do with them all.

Owners of three of the largest Saanich flower farms had a problem. They didn't want the flowers to be wasted. The men were G. A. Vantreight, Sr., and G. A. Vantreight, Jr., W. Mattrick and the owners of Pacific Flowers Ltd.

Recently they interviewed Capt. Norman Foster at the Chamber of Commerce and explained the flower surplus situation. As a result, a conference was held immediately with Mrs. K. M. Massey, president of the Women's Auxiliary to the Queen Alexandra Solarium. Here is the plan which resulted.

On Saturday every man, woman and child in Victoria, if passing through the downtown area, will be given a daffodil. It will not be a tag day, but it is hoped the majority of citizens will remember the good work being done at the Solarium, and make small donations.

A total of 240,000 daffodils will be distributed. Men will be offered individual flowers for their buttonholes. It will be the first time in the history of the city that there has been such an activity. It will be Victoria's "flower day."

Members of the Girl Guide movement in the city will assist members of the Solarium Women's Auxiliary in distributing the flowers. Chinese will also help in the day's program. Total amount collected throughout the day will be publicly announced.

Distribution of the daffodils will start Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock. Capt. Foster announced. A large shipment will also be sent to the Solarium.

ARTICLES RETURNED

A black leather purse, two smaller purses, 14 spoons and five brooches, found Saturday in Beacon Hill Park by R. Hetherington, 502 Johnson Street, were returned yesterday to Miss E. J. Herbert, 1206 Fairfield Road, from whom the articles were stolen when her apartment was entered on March 12, Detective Louis Callon said yesterday. Several other pieces of jewelry taken at the same time have not yet been recovered, he said.

First Plea of Campaign Council For $50 Pension at Age of 60

William McLaughlin was elected chairman of the newly-formed Old Age Campaign Council at an organization meeting in Prince Robert House last night.

Other officers elected were James Waters, vice-chairman; Rev. Edith Mavell, recording secretary; Mrs. Dorothy McLaughlin, corresponding secretary, and Fred Pearson, treasurer.

Appointed chairmen of committees were: J. Turney, organizing; Rev. K. L. Sandercock, legislative; Mrs. Thelma Simmons, ways and means; Mrs. A. Spadilo, welfare and housing; George Wilkinson, press, and H. E. Thayer, auditing committee. Regular meetings of the council will be held on a monthly basis and will take place the second Tuesday of each month.

The new organization, slogans of which are "Fighting for Canada's Aged" and "You'll Be Old, Too, Some Day," started its existence with a resolution calling for pensions of $50 per month at 60 years of age without means test, applicable to blind persons. It also urged a supplementary pension be paid to dependents, and that pensioners be allowed to visit outside Canada for a greater period than 90 days.

It was decided that the campaign council should petition the Federal Government to enact immediately a contributory old-age retirement annuities act, and that if the Federal Government failed to take suitable action, the Provincial Government be urged to lead the way by inaugurating the legislation.

Aims and objects of the campaign council are to stimulate public interest and educate the public in regard to social security as it relates to old-age pensioners in Canada. The council also aims to co-ordinate the effort of all groups interested in and working for the betterment of social conditions affecting old age pensioners, and to establish provincial councils in each province in Canada. Establishment of a national council is also called for in present plans.

More than 152 delegates representing 64 organizations attended last night's initial meeting and total attendance amounted to 217 including visitors.

Rev. K. Sandercock opened the meeting by urging delegates to do all in their power to bring about improvement of conditions for senior citizens. He informed the meeting that Mrs. Dorothy Spurr, secretary pro tem, who had performed invaluable work for old age pensioners, had been forced to resign as she was leaving Victoria.

Asks Restraint On Injunctions

A move to block injunctions in industrial disputes except on the authority of the Minister of Labor was introduced in the Legislature last night in the form of a bill to amend the Trade Unions Act.

It is assured of defeat, since it was introduced by an Opposition member, A. J. Turner (C.C.F., Vancouver East).

The restraint proposed in the bill reads:

"Notwithstanding anything contained in any other act, no application for mandamus or injunction may be made to a court in connection with any dispute or difference between an employer . . . and his . . . employees except by or with the consent of the Minister of Labor, evidenced by a certificate signed by or on behalf of the Minister of Labor."

T.C.A. Planes Carried 23,776 in February

Trans-Canada Air Lines carried 23,776 passengers in February compared with 22,170 in the preceding month, it was announced yesterday by officials of the airline.

In spite of the shorter month, the airline also carried more airmail in February when the figure was 199,397 pounds against 185,521 for January. Air express was down at 88,677 pounds for last month and 90,746 pounds for January.

Amendments to Public Schools Act Commended by Education Minister

Amendments to the Public Schools Act now before the House to provide for automatic membership of teachers in the British Columbia Teachers' Federation were vigorously championed by Education Minister G. M. Weir on second reading of the bill in the Legislature yesterday.

He declared:

There was no suggestion of lust for power or taking advantage of anyone by the federation.

It was a matter of internal organization of the profession.

It had little to do with school trustees, whose powers would in no way be affected.

The federation had no desire to interfere in appointments of teachers.

There was nothing to enable the federation to exercise the powers enjoyed by organizations with a closed shop or a union shop.

SAYS RECOGNITION GRANTED ELSEWHERE

Dr. Weir told the House teachers were entitled to receive recognition of professional status as granted in seven other provinces in the Dominion and as enjoyed by doctors, dentists, nurses and lawyers.

Teachers had a high code of ethics, he said, and the proposed amendment would give the federation some authority if the code were violated, but dismissal or suspension would be subject to right of appeal to the Lieutenant-Governor in council. Nor could the federation be accused of being motivated by lust for power, since it allowed right of withdrawal denied in five other provinces.

"The department does not hand over one jot or tittle or its control."

Dr. Weir told the House. Answering an objection that teachers who withdraw from the federation would be relegated to less desirable schools, he pointed out that the federation would have no control whatever over the placement of teachers.

Debate was adjourned by A. J. McDonell (Cln., Vancouver Centre).

B.C. Fur Farms To Be Licensed

Fur farms of British Columbia will be brought under provincial licensing and control by a bill introduced in the House last night by Agriculture Minister Frank Putnam.

The act will be administered by a commissioner, who will have power to quarantine any fur farm suspected of containing animals suffering from contagious or infectious disease.

Scale of license fees under the act will be: Not more than 25 fur-bearing animals, $5; more than 25 but not more than 100, $10; more than 100 animals, $15.

Situation Unchanged

Greater Victoria's transportation problem is the same today as it was all through the war. No definite arrangement has been reached to renew expiring charters, or to take other steps that would take their place. Least of all is public ownership any form of a solution, in a community that has neither the money nor the experience to initiate it. Meanwhile, some 26,000 new settlers have come into the community, and existing transportation is lagging badly. For that reason, we welcome signs at the City Hall that this issue is to be revived, and that talks may resume shortly with the existing transit operators.

This time, all four areas comprising the Greater Victoria community will appreciate the fact that transportation is a one-piece problem, and that even after full accord is reached lack of transit equipment may continue to hamper for a time efforts to renovate and improve public carrier operations here. Victoria's desire, if we understand it aright, is to have done as soon as it is possible with the street car system, to remove the car rails, and to supplant that type of locomotion with something more modern and more suited to the individual needs of this community.

That comes down to the questions of who will be willing to do it, and upon what terms? The first efforts of the joint intermunicipal committee in that regard were not successful. Probably there were some misunderstandings on both sides of the issue. The ratepayers, in any event, did not approve of the scheme, and it is the ratepayers who will have the last say in the matter now. A modified form of agreement with the present traction concerns, making a reasonable approach to what the community wants and at a figure it can afford to pay, should be within the competence of the negotiations, with some experience now absorbed from the initial efforts.

A modern and efficient transportation system continues to be one of the chief needs of the united community. The sooner proposals are started, the sooner some action may result to bring that about.

Floods in Britain

Two successive crop failures from long-continued rains, the hardest Winter in half a hundred years, and now floods, have created and today constitute a national emergency in Great Britain comparable with almost any period in the recent war. When it is remembered that housing in the Motherland is sadly depleted, and that thousands of families are trying to live in dwellings battered in war action, the condition created by these physical reverses may well be imagined. The point is what is Canada proposing to do by way of help?

For a long period during hostilities, Canadian divisions were quartered in Great Britain, where Canadian fighting men were received with every kindness and attention. They formed friendships which have lasted to this day. Thousands of Canadian homes now are doing what they can to send food parcels to the Old Country; but that effort, as many have pointed out, is unorganized. There is a growing feeling in the land that the Dominion Government, as an act of national policy, should take cognizance of the situation, and make some effort to show that Canada is willing to help.

That very easily could be done. Parliament is in session now. The Government would only have to introduce a proposal aimed at giving some practical measure of assistance to Great Britain on behalf of the people of this land, and such a course would be welcomed with open arms throughout Canada. At the very least, the Government could support a national drive in support of whatever joint action could be taken under the Canadian Red Cross or some such agency.

If the Administration gave that lead, the people would be glad to do the rest. It is not merely a question of relief in hard-pressed times; it comes very close to involving Canadian honor. What is Canada's gratitude worth if it can see these successive reversals in the Motherland without making some sustained effort to help?

Mountbatten Installed

The spectacle of a descendant of the first British Queen-Empress of India taking office as Viceroy in order to effect the cessation of British control of that country is not without historical piquancy. By the romantically inclined, it might be deemed an appropriate gesture rounding out a century of careful guardianship of a people now standing at the door of self-government. That would be true, but it is no less a fact that much more than romance is involved. Viscount Mountbatten's task is not to preside over the concluding ceremonies, but to bring conflicting viewpoints to a unity without which real Indian independence may not be consummated.

It is apparent from the precedent-breaking speech which Lord Mountbatten made at his inaugural ceremonies in New Delhi that he is under no illusions about the difficulties of his new assignment. It is perhaps the most awkward of the many projects placed in the hands of this distinguished young naval officer during the last six years. He will need all the qualities which he displayed with conspicious success elsewhere, together with others associated more closely with his new field of endeavor. As he himself remarked, it is not a normal obligation upon which he is embarking.

Primarily, his task is to bring divergent political aims to a common meeting point, so that the constitutional requirements of home rule may be worked out in unison with both the major Indian parties. His first plea has been for native assistance, in the form of the kind of good will necessary for the orderly transition of sovereign authority. Successive British Governments have been making that plea for the past few years, but without avail. It remains to be seen whether the invitation extended again by the new Viceroy will meet with better success. Entry through the door of political independence depends principally on the willingness of Congress and Moslem leaders to act in full concert in behalf of the Indian people as a whole.

City Hall Plans

There seems to be an unnecessary desire to get the present City Hall sold at any cost. The latest proposal is that the City should purchase the Belmont Building as a temporary measure, provided the Dominion Government will relinquish it—which is doubtful—at the prise reportedly paid for it early in the war, namely $175,000. By this means it is thought opposition to the sale of the City Hall site would be sidetracked, and the contemplated by-law assured of passage by the ratepayers. Any such feeling of assurance must be based on somewhat confused thinking. Victoria has millions in commitments ahead of new civic offices.

Apart from the accommodation it would make for interests which desire the City Hall site for commercial purposes, it is not easy to see any real point in leaving a permanent for a temporary home. Civic officials sense, and rightly so, that the citizens of this community are not prepared to foot the bill for a new town edifice built at present extravagant construction prices. From a construction point of view, a new City Hall is not properly feasible for some time. From a financial aspect, there are many other civic projects which demand prior attention, and some at once.

Acquisition of the Belmont Building would do little but add another factor detrimental in the long run to the building of a new City Hall, when that becomes a practical consideration. Citizens would not welcome the switch. The Belmont Building is not too suitable for the conduct of civic business, and it is not conveniently located for most of the Victoria public. Aldermen would do well to forget about another civic headquarters until the time is much riper than it is at present. The present site is good enough in the meantime. In so far as the majority of citizens are concerned, the City Hall as it stands is sufficient for present needs. The luxury of a larger and perhaps more imposing building cannot be afforded until needed services are assured.

Armed Robbery

It has been the experience of this, as of other lands, that armed robbery is stopped most quickly and effectively by the reintroduction of the lash, in addition to prison terms. The average holdup man is a coward, and nothing acts to deter him so fast as this form of fly-by-night pursuit than the thought that if he is taken in the act he will suffer for it. It was after the Great War, in the period of 1919 to 1925, that this lesson was demonstrated once more in Canada. A minor, and then a greater, wave of armed robberies swept the country. A handful of police magistrates, supported by the senior courts, commenced handing out prison terms with whippings. The result was that the crime wave was broken, and that armed robbery became a rarity in any part of Canada. It would seem that conditions analogous to 1919-1925 are with us again. The same remedy should be applied, and, as every law enforcement officer knows, it will work

Dover Beach

The sea is calm tonight.
The tide is full, the moon lies fair
Upon the straits; on the French coast the light
Gleams and is gone; the cliffs of England stand,
Glimmering and vast, out in the tranquil bay.
Come to the window, sweet is the night air!
Only, from the long line of spray
Where the sea meets the moon-blanch'd land,
Listen! you hear the grating roar
Of pebbles which the waves draw back, and fling,
At their return, up the high strand,
Begin, and cease, and then again begin
With tremulous cadence slow, and bring
The eternal note of sadness in.

Sophocles long ago
Heard it in the Aegean, and it brought
Into his mind the turbid ebb and flow
Of human misery; we
Find also in the sound a thought,
Hearing it by this distant northern sea.

The Third Column

By TOM TAYLOR

IGNORANT OF CANADA

Writing in the Montreal Standard after a recent visit to the United States, Wallace Reyburn, formerly one of this country's best-known war correspondents, expresses amazement at the ignorance he found extant among Americans about Canada. As one test he used to ask almost everyone he met to name the Canadian capital. Invariably the answer was Montreal.

Giving a second try, the guess was usually Toronto, or Quebec City. Seldom did he get the correct answer, and he says he questioned persons in all walks of life. Most of them had never heard of Ottawa.

Because many Canadians could name the majority of United States state capitals, let alone the national centre of administration, this might come as an unwelcome surprise, rather a deflating one perhaps.

This column can remember hearing that same question being asked of a retired bank manager on one of the numerous American quizz programs. He had answered all the previous queries but fluffed that one—and it was the $64 question! We remember thinking at the time that a businessman shouldn't have been so ignorant, even allowing for the nervous strain caused by the "mike" and the pot of easy money almost within his grasp.

QUINTUPLETS ARE PROOF

We can recall, also, the young daughter of a friend who went from Canada with her parents to live in the United States, and the astonishment of her classmates when they discovered she could speak English.

Some victims of Mr. Reyburn's curiosity said it was unfair to test them simply on the question of the Canadian capital, which in a way it was. So he tried them with "Who rules Canada?"

As may be expected, he got a variety of answers, his favorite coming from a St. Louis school teacher. She said, not without a certain amount of logic, incidentally, that "The King of England rules Canada. As soon as the quintuplets were born they became wards of the King—that proves it."

At least it proves this particular teacher had some knowledge of Canada.

In so far as the majority of Americans are concerned, however, we think such lack of awareness of their neighbors to the north is quite understandable. Some fault may lie in the school syllabus, but then probably the same fault lies in our curriculum with regard to the United States. And American children, like our own, study what is put before them.

SHADOW OF AMERICA

By and large, Canadians know a great deal about America. But the knowledge doesn't come via the schoolroom; it arrives over the air and in magazines, on the Hollywood screen and in the pages of the Canadian press.

We live in the material shadow of the American scene. The impact of such a large population on Canadian habits and way of life is enormous. Canadians absorb details of American happenings and places because they are constantly hearing or reading about them. They don't consciously set out to become proficient in American geography, for example. It's just that in course of time they can't help but acquire an acquaintance with American things and people, even if vicarious.

By contrast very little information about Canada meets the American eye or ear. There are no Canadian movies of consequence. Canadian magazines don't disturb the placings of the average bookstall in the United States. Few Americans tune in to Canadian radio stations. You could read some American newspapers for weeks on end and never come across a Canadian name; while there isn't a daily paper in this country that doesn't carry American news items every day.

UNCOMFORTABLE SITUATION

If Mr. Reyburn were to visit the State of Washington, or Oregon, of course, he would find many intelligent Americans with a fair grasp of Canadian affairs. And in places like Detroit and North Dakota, where people come and go frequently across the border, the ignorance that amazed him would not be so prevalent. But there must be large stretches of the United States where a Canadian would be a sight to cause some wonder on the par of the inhabitants.

Since on a population basis this country is a pygmy compared to the United States, most Americans go through life with only the vaguest idea about Canada.

It's an uncomfortable situation in a way, and not just because of human reluctance to admit that you're being overlooked. It makes a mockery of the pontifical injunctions that go out from North America to Europe, telling the people over there to forget their old scores and get to know one another better.

The cure, if there is to be one, would seem to lie mostly in the hands of American editors and educators. The latter could begin by teaching school pupils at least the capital of this country; while the former could find room each day for some news of the country which stretches all along the three thousand-mile boundary to the north.

This would be far better than anything Canadians could do about the matter.

Slave Labor Prejudices Workers Everywhere

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

I have an anonymous communication from a person in California who writes:

"Russia cannot collect cash in Germany for even a part of willful damage Germany inflicted. Therefore, her demand for labor in lieu of cash is justifiable, and only can otherwise be considered by a biased and distorted mind. Would you be so concerned if the tables were reversed and those horrid Bolshies were made to work (at forced labor)?"

The correspondent does not give his name or address, but his letter deserves a public reply.

* * *

Answer to direct question: I should be exactly as concerned if "the tables were reversed."

I am concerned in principle. The lack of principle in practically every measure designed or, taken for the peace concerns me most of all.

* * *

When wars are lost it is customary for the victors to charge reparations against the losers. When the loser is the aggressor, reparations are just. But justice also demands that reparations should be justly distributed among the defeated people. Justice, as opposed to revenge, cannot be abrogated because we are dealing with a defeated enemy or an enemy who has violated what we consider justice. The judge does not accept the code of the criminal he condemns. If he did, there would be no judgment.

Following this war, the victors have collected reparations by force against individuals. Property has been taken from some persons and not from others, or from the community as a whole.

But of all reparations taken, the worst is the taking of men in slavery.

These have, in fact, been taken regardless of their individual behavior in relation to Nazism. The choice has been made according to age, health, working capacity, and whether—as prisoners—they were in the hands of the slave owners. These men, two years after the war, are separated from their families, denied the most primary human rights and needs, kept in penal camps, and maintained on bare subsistence, or, falling beneath it, allowed to perish.

To this, one has got to say either a yes or a no.

* * *

I do not say no out of "pity for the Germans."

I say no because I am an American and believe in American principles.

The Soviet Union not only has taken such slave labor from Germany and German satellites who committed aggression against her. When she was the aggressor—in collaboration with Hitler—against Poland, the Baltic states and Finland, she treated the defeated nations the same way.

From Poland she removed to slave labor penal camps no less than 1,500,000 civilians and prisoners of war. She worked them under conditions no different from those of German penal camps, except that there were no gas chambers and sanitary conditions were worse.

These are facts, for which an immense amount of sworn evidence exists, taken from the testimony of those repatriated when Russia became a Polish "ally."

* * *

The crime of slavery was charged against the representatives of the German state in Nuernberg.

A crime is either a crime or not a crime. If it is a crime, it is a crime by whomever committed. The Nuernberg indictment did not permit arguments of extenuating circumstances. It was described as the beginning of a new international law. But if the prosecutors indulge in the crimes of which they indicted the defendants, no law is established and the avowed purpose of the trial fails.

* * *

Human slavery prejudices the lives of free workers everywhere. "A nation cannot endure half slave and half free," said Lincoln. If Lincoln was right, it must be emphatically rejected that any good can accrue to Russian workers by the presence in their country of 5,000,000 imported slaves. Nor can any good accrue to world prosperity. Free and well-paid workers cannot compete against wageless subsistence workers. If I am wrong, ask William Green or Philip Murray.

That the same persons who believe that a prosperous America depends on mass purchasing power can argue that the world economy is aided by depriving 70,000,000 Germans, 80,000,000 Japanese and some 40,000,000 German satellites of all purchasing power, is an acrobatics of logic I am unable to follow.

* * *

The use of slave labor by a state claiming to be the Mecca of the "workers of the world" blows that claim into thin air.

The incompatibility of the Soviets appealing in Germany for their "workers' state" while they draft German workers into slavery is unrecognizable only by the servile.

It is my correspondent, I submit, whose mind is distorted. He should re-examine the terrible implications of what he advocates, not for the sake of the Germans, but for his own sake and the sake of his children.

And, in the United States, when we take a stand, we sign our names.

The publisher of "Who's Who in British Columbia" was favorably impressed with the politeness of Up-Island children, according to the following story he told to the staff of The Nanaimo Free Press: "As I boarded a bus filled with young folk, I was immediately given a seat by a polite youngster. As the bus proceeded on its way, other children gave up their seats to adults, with the result that by the time the vehicle reached the business district all adults were seated, and all students were standing. Living in Vancouver where one does not observe such thoughtful actions, the trip impressed me. I think it reflects great credit to the leadership Nanaimo students are receiving in their homes and schools, and I intend to write something about it at Vancouver" . . . That reminded me of the time I saw a crippled youth offer his seat in a Fairfield bus to a temporarily incapacitated man leaning on a cane and grasping a strap in the lurching, bouncing vehicle. The man with the cane warmly thanked the boy, and replied: "Stay where you are. You need a seat more than I do."

CANADA'S CRUISERS

Sir,—When the cruisers Uganda and Ontario were transferred from the British Navy to the Canadian Navy they were well designed, equipped and armed. All that has been added at Esquimalt has been additional to the Ontario's condition when built. Every naval captain can always find improvements which has produced many gadgets which can be fitted to a cruising man of war.

It is, of course, important that the whole crew of a cruiser should be thesoughly trained, but this cannot be done without squadron training. A squadron consists of two or more ships of the same class, hence the officers and ratings of the Ontario cannot be fully trained until they have been worked at sea with the sister ship Uganda.

But the naval service establishment of 7,500 officers and ratings is not enough for the simultaneous commissioning of the two cruisers and aircraft carriers. Therefore complete sea training is now impossible for the Royal Canadian Navy. The original establishment proposed by the flag officers at Ottawa was 10,000 for the naval service, and this would have been enough for the simultaneous commissioning of the above four cruisers and carriers. Also for an adequate number of officers and ratings always to be in training ashore and attending specialist classes or courses, and discharges for sickness.

From the above statement about incomplete sea training it is clear that the Government has been most extravagant with such fine ships to reduce the establishment of officers and ratings from 10,000 to 7,500.

I suggest that the local branch of the Navy League and the Victoria Chamber of Commerce take up the matter with the Dominion cabinet to have this corrected.

LITTERED BEACHES

Sir,—I have just returned from a visit to a beach and I'm filled with disgust for the filth of what could be a beautiful spot. This particular place I'm speaking of it just a small beach in Esquimalt, but it is certainly not the only one that is covered with vegetable trash, empty bottles and garbage of all sorts. The city is always looking for new ways to attract the tourist trade and all the while it is shamefully neglecting one of its finest attractions. Our beaches would be beautiful if kept clean.

Besides being unsanitary for our children, it is a disgrace for a city the size of Victoria to have such an inadequate method of garbage disposal. Wouldn't it be better for some of the money spent on tourist attractions such as hanging flower baskets, which are lovely but unnecessary, be first put to a much more practical use, as cleanliness on our beaches and sanitary protection for our children?

NEED ORGANIZED EFFORT

Sir,—It seems reasonably certain that we, in this land of plenty, will soon have to do something to relieve in some measure the desperate plight in which the Mother Country finds herself. Many of us are sending pitifully small parcels to relatives and friends, but due to the high postal rates this effort is, for the most part, ineffectual. If, with the money we thus spend, we could subscribe to a central fund administered by some organization like the Red Cross, I have no doubt that in a very short space of time sufficient funds would be obtained to send over a shipload of food and then the bulk of the people would benefit instead of the very few who now do so, and the amount of supplies would be very much greater for the same outlay. This plan could work continuously and possibly the mayor of each city could be asked to act as the collecting agency, as was done when funds were being collected for victims of the bombing blitz.

According to Culbertson

(Copyright, 1947, by Ely Culbertson)

As a rule when a player has a sound penalty double he should make it, and not be deterred by the fear that the opponents can "run to a better suit." Once in a while, however, the opportunity is simply too good to be seized—as in this case.

North, dealer.
Neither side vulnerable.
North-South 60 on score.

	NORTH
	♥ 9 5
	♦ A K Q 10 7 3 2
	♣ 10 7 4 3
WEST		EAST
♠ A K J 10		♠ 4 3 2
♥ 7 6 2		♥ K Q J 10 8
♦ J 9 8 4		♦ 5
♣ 5 2		♣ K Q 8 6
	SOUTH
	♠ Q 9 8 7 6 5
	♥ A 4 3
	♦ 6
	♣ A J 9

North-South's part-score figured largely in the bidding, which was:

North	East	South	West
4 ♠	4 ♥	4 ♠	Pass
Pass	Pass

Obviously, East "had his neck out to there" in overcalling the four-diamond bid. Despite the result (down four, with West also collecting 100 honors), South's four-spade bid was not to be condemned—indeed, it is difficult to establish the greater logic of any other action on South's part. Of course South could have doubled four hearts, with reasonable assurance of defeating that contract, or he could have passed. But, under the vulnerability conditions, the double was not too attractive, and as for passing—undoubtedly the safest course of all—South could not be blamed too severely for feeling that four spades would be makable if North had even a little support in the suit.

It is not South's bidding, however, but West's silence that should concern us. Obviously, West had a beautiful opportunity to double, but the very excellence of this chance made West pass it up—with a swiftness, a complete lack of hesitation, that lulled North into a false sense of security, thus keeping him quiet.

Actually, as he said later, North felt far from secure at four spades, but what could he do about it? The bid had not been doubled and might not be. South might have a long and solid suit. So North passed, whereas five diamonds might have been made.

Cypriots Get Blunt Turn-Down On Union-With-Greece Proposal

LONDON, March 25 (CP).—A Cyprus delegation has returned to its Eastern Mediterranean home ready to deny that the British Empire is being liquidated.

This Cypriot group visited Colonial Secretary Creech Jones with the suggestion their island colony, an important link in the Commonwealth defence chain, should be allowed to decide its own future and enter union with Greece.

Creech-Jones, an enthusiastic supporter of advancement and self-reliance for the colonies, gave the Cypriots a blunt turn-down and reminded them of heavy expenditures being made by the United Kingdom in Cyprus to improve living conditions and of plans for a more liberal constitution. He said he hoped the Cypriots would play their part in these beneficial developments.

(Government sources said Monday they were "surprised and disappointed" at a Washington proposal that Britain cede Cyprus to Greece. One official remarked: "It will be a relief to all of us in Britain when some people in the United States overcome their tendency to be so liberal with territory that does not belong to them."

(In Washington a statement on Cyprus was omitted in a revised version of documents submitted to Congress in connection with the proposed United States loans to Greece. The revision was made known shortly after the London protests. London newspapers attributed the documents to the United States State Department.)

Major E. A. Bramall, Labor Member of Parliament for Bexley, said later in the Commons that the demand for union with Greece was so strong that even Cypriot Socialists, who might be in personal danger if union took place, prepared to risk its consequences rather than "continue to be separated from their mother country."

Another Labor member, R. R. Stokes, Ipswich, promptly said that probably the vast majority of Cypriots want to remain under British rule and protection.

Disturbances in Palestine and British plans to withdraw troops from existing bases in Egypt, if not from the Suez Canal zone, have added to Cyprus' importance as a defence outpost.

It has been used to house thousands of Jews taken from illegal immigrant ships attempting to reach Palestine. It has become involved the Eastern Mediterranean between right and left forces, a situation in which Russia, as well as the United States and United Kingdom, is interested.

Lord Winster, former Minister of Civil Aviation and looked on as one of Labor's best administrators, has been appointed Cyprus Governor. This duty for an experienced minister at a time when Prime Minister Attlee needs all hands at home was accepted in London as demonstrating the importance of Cyprus in Britain's future defence arrangements.

Nearly 400,000 persons live on the island of 3,572 square miles, many of them of Greek descent. The island was occupied in 1878 and administered by Britain as part of an agreement to strengthen the defence of Asiatic Turkey. It was annexed to Britain in 1914 after the war with Turkey had broken out.

In the Middle Ages Cyprus was owned by the Knights Templar, after being a British possession briefly in the 12th century when Richard the Lion Heart on his way to the Third Crusade defeated the garrison and took control.

Royalty Sees Sacred Dances

OGEGUN, Swaziland, South Africa, March 25 (Reuters).—Weird sacred dances by 8,000 half-naked chanting Swazi warriors today gave the Royal party the most impressive native display witnessed on its tour of South Africa.

The dances, performed in a large semi-circle and depicting the killing of their enemies with long, razor-sharp assegais (spears tipped with iron), took place outside Ogegun.

Advancing slowly, crouching behind hide-covered shields and swaying rhythmically to their deep-voiced chanting mingled with a ceremonial whistle of greetings, the warriors danced the sacred "Ihubo" and the "Ingquaba ka Ngofula"—"the inexplicable mystery" — performed only on Swaziland's greatest occasions.

For the first time since the tour began rain fell as the party left the train at Moolman to drive into Southern Swaziland, where they spent the day.

To the Swazi tribesmen this was a good omen, for the possession of rain-making "medicine" is a great attribute to the Swazi queen-mother "Ndlovukazi" who holds an honored title meaning "the she elephant."

The tall, fluffy-haired Swazi warriors — seven regiments of age-groups led by the 70-year-olds — slept last night by their camp fires after a day of strenuous dance rehearsals.

Wheat Price Peg Refused

BUENOS AIRES, March 25 (Reuters).—Argentina will not agree to peg her wheat prices unless countries from which she imports other commodities agree to fixing of their prices, Miguel Miranda, Argentina's economic expert, said today in an interview.

Commenting on the International Wheat Conference, meeting in London to solve the world wheat problem, Miranda said "they want us to sell our wheat at 26 pesos (about $6.20) a quintal (roughly 3½ bushels). I have replied that we will agree to their fixing the price of Argentine products if they will allow me to fix the prices of their products. I will not tolerate imposition on my country of an obligation to sell wheat at 26 pesos when they are selling us cars worth 4,000 pesos for 7,000 pesos."

Dairen Control Compact Seen

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP).—Russia has notified the United States that she is ready to take "appropriate steps" to carry out an agreement to give China control of the Manchurian port of Dairen, the State Department announced today.

The Soviet notification was in response to a United States note to Moscow and Nanking expressing hope that the "current unsatisfactory situation" at Dairen could be settled soon.

The Russian reply was dated February 27.

Dairen has been under Soviet military control since the Russians moved into Manchuria in the closing days of the war with Japan.

Radar Stations Plans Revealed

OTTAWA, March 25 (CP).—External Affairs Minister St. Laurent announced today that Canada plans to build two low-frequency, long-range radar stations in her Far North this Summer as aids to aerial and marine navigation.

He said it was possible that a third would be constructed in 1948, but did not give any locations.

He disclosed that the stations would be operated in conjunction with others on United States territory, presumably Alaska, and that American aid in technical personnel had been offered "until sufficient trained Canadian personnel are available for replacement."

A short time ago Reconstruction Minister Howe announced Canada would build nine weather stations in the Far North within the next three years. United States personnel also will be used in them until Canadians are trained.

Polish Voting Called "Farce"

WASHINGTON, March 25 (CP).—Arthur Bliss Lane resigned today as United States Ambassador to Poland after asserting that the situation in that country is a "tragedy."

In a letter to President Truman, Lane declared that the recent Polish pre-election period was "characterized by coercion, intimidation and violence—thus rendering the elections a farce and indicating on the part of the Polish Government a cynical disregard of its international obligations."

Accepting the resignation, effective March 31, the President said he appreciated "the vigorous efforts which you made to persuade the Polish Provisional Government to fulfill its pledges with respect to the holding of free elections in Poland."

Centenarian Gives Longevity Rules

WEST SALEM, Wis., March 25 (AP).—Three requisites for 100 years of life were given today by Mrs. Christine Larson, Norwegian immigrant of 70 years ago.

"I've lived to be 100 years old," said Mrs. Larson, "thanks to the protection of the Lord, hard work and Norwegian coffee."

Opinion of Justice Minister Termed Dangerous Doctrine

OTTAWA, March 25 (CP). — John Diefenbaker (Progressive Conservative, Lake Centre), charged in the Commons today that Justice Minister Ilsley last week had enunciated a "dangerous" doctrine which would enable a C.C.F. Government holding a majority to "over-ride" Parliament.

That doctrine, he said, was contained in an opinion given last week by Mr. Ilsley that the Dominion may have the power "even when there is no emergency" to legislate for peace, order and good government "even though its legislation touches on matters ordinarily regarded as solely within provincial jurisdiction."

Speaking in debate on the resolution preliminary to the Government's control bill, Mr. Diefenbaker, a lawyer, said:

"... If my honorable friends of the C.C.F. came into power tomorrow the precedent declared the other day by the Minister of Justice would be the blueprint upon which they, with a majority, could over-ride Parliament and have behind them the supporting corroboration of the Minister of Justice of today."

He observed that Mr. Ilsley yesterday, at the request of a French-speaking member, had clarified his statements to say that the Government's 'emergency' legislation was based upon the existence of a national emergency arising out of the war and that his previous statement did not purport to be one of Government policy.

But, said Mr. Diefenbaker, the minister had used at one point in his earlier statement the impersonal pronoun "we" which represented the Government and the Parliament of the country, and added:

"There, sir, he enunciates a doctrine which at the present time he says is his personal opinion which would place in the hands of the Dominion Parliament, having the necessary majority to do so, the power to over-ride the British North America Act . . . and . . . to destroy the rights of the Provinces under Confederation. That is a most unusual thing.

"Even if it is accepted as the view of the Minister of Justice alone, it is a view which would destroy the rights of the provinces in this country by permitting their coercion at the instance of a Dominion Parliament."

Mr. Diefenbaker's attack drew from Mr. Ilsley the angry interjection that he was talking "nonsense" and a plea of "don't twist things, please." At one point Mr. Ilsley rose and retorted that "I cannot reply in this debate or I would reply."

Golfers Attend Spring Opening

Over 74 lady golfers attended the formal seasonal opening of the Oak Bay Golf Club yesterday when they gathered at the clubhouse for luncheon, followed by the ladies' nine-hole two-ball foursomes.

The event proved to be one of the most successful to be held at the club as more and more women are taking an interest and an active part in golfing activities in the city.

Winners of the tournament were Mrs. J. H. Newton and Mrs. G. B. Bigelow, with Mrs. C. W. Stanbury and Mrs. A. B. Nash as runners-up.

Couple to Reside In Port Alberni

At a quiet ceremony performed by Rev. T. H. McAllister at Gorge Presbyterian Church on Saturday evening, Jessie M. Reid, daughter of Mrs. and Mrs. H. Reid, Happy Valley Road, was united in marriage with Peter Basterrechea, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Basterrechea, of Port Alberni.

The bride was smartly attired in a green and brown check biege tailored suit, brown accessories and a gardenia corsage. Miss Myrtle Reid was her sister's attendant, wearing a blue-grey tailored suit, black accessories and a pink rosebud corsage.

About one hundred relatives and friends attended the reception held in Luxton Hall, where the guests were received by mothers of the young couple. Mr. W. Davey proposed the toast to the bride.

The young couple left by motor for a trip through Oregon and California, and upon their return will reside at Port Alberni, V.I.

St. Anne's Church committee met recently at the home of Mrs. N. Thomson, with Rev. G. L. Pattison presiding. A report was given of the recent visit of Ven. A. E. deL. Nunns. It was decided to open a building fund for the proposed new church in Parksville.

PETER DISCOVERS SPOOKY

Peter Rabbit had been startled by a voice as he was passing a certain big apple tree in the Old Orchard. The voice had seemed to come from that big apple tree. Peter stopped short and stared up through the branches of the tree. Look as he would he couldn't see anybody. There wasn't a leaf on that tree and he could see all through it. Peter blinked, he felt foolish, very foolish indeed. He knew that had there been anyone sitting on one of those branches he couldn't have helped seeing them.

"Don't look so high, Peter. Don't look so high," said the voice with a chuckle. This time it sounded as if it came right out of the trunk of the tree. Peter stared at the trunk, then suddenly laughed right out. Just a few feet above the ground was a good-sized hole in the tree, and poking his head out of it was a funny little fellow with big eyes and a hooked beak.

"You certainly did fool me that time, Spooky," cried Peter. "I ought to have recognized your voice, but I didn't."

Spooky the Screech Owl, for that is who it was, came out of the hole in the tree, and without a sound from his wings flew over and perched just above Peter's head. He was a little fellow, not more than eight inches high, but there was no mistaking the family to which he belonged. In fact he looked very much like a small copy of Hooty the Great Horned Owl, so much so that Peter felt a little cold shiver run over him, although he had nothing in the world to fear from Spooky. His head seemed to be almost as big around as his body, and he seemed to have no neck at all. He was dressed in bright reddish brown with little streaks and bars of black. Underneath he was whitish with little streaks of black and brown. On each side of his head was a tuft of feathers. They look like ears, and some people think they are ears, which is a mistake. His eyes were round and yellow with a fierce hungry look in them. His bill was small and almost hidden among the feathers of his face, but it was hooked just like the bill of Hooty.

As Spooky settled himself he turned his head till he could look squarely behind him, then brought it back again so quickly that to Peter

"You haven't told me yet why you look so unhappy, Peter," said Spooky

it looked as if it had gone clear round. You see, Spooky's eyes are fixed in their sockets, and he cannot move them from side to side. He has to turn his whole head in order to see to one side or the other.

"You haven't told me yet why you look so unhappy, Peter," said Spooky.

At the Theatres

"Claudia and David" Grand Romantic Hit

"Claudia and David," 20th Century-Fox's filmization of the newest adventures of Rose Franken's fabulous yet utterly human sweethearts, is showing at the Atlas Theatre today only, with Dorothy McGuire and Robert Young in the title roles. Wonderful in its high-spirited humor and heart-warming tenderness, as [illegible] of Miss McGuire and Mr. Young, this picture is, indeed, a rare and delightful film treat.

CAPITOL THEATRE Lovely Ingrid Bergman co-stars with Robert Montgomery in "Rage in Heaven," suspense-packed story of a husband obsessed with jealousy, who enacts the "perfect crime." The triumphant picture is now showing at the Capitol Theatre. The role of the distraught wife is one of the most brilliant ever enacted by the star of such hits as "Spellbound" and "Saratoga Trunk."

DOMINION THEATRE "Brasher Doubloon," Twentieth Century-Fox's latest mystery hit, is now showing at the Dominion Theatre. Based on Raymond Chandler's thriller-diller, "The High Window," starring George Montgomery and Nancy Guild, and brought to the screen by Robert Bassler and John Brahm, the producer-director team responsible for "Hangover Square" and "The Lodger."

OAK BAY THEATRE Announced as a striking innovation in motion picture dramas, "The Seventh Veil," a Universal release, is now showing at the Oak Bay Theatre. The unusual story, dealing with the tragic plight of a young concert pianiste, is said to be one of the most profound and gripping ever enacted on the screen. Ann Todd and James Mason are co-starred. Seen in the supporting cast are Hugh McDermott, Herbert Lom, David Horne, Yvonne Owen.

PLAZA THEATRE If great stories make great pictures, it is equally true that no drama or comedy is any better than the cast that interprets it. Measured by this standard, "The Bachelor's Daughters," the Andrew Stone comedy sensation now at the Plaza Theatre, is one of the season's outstanding attractions. Presenting young Eugene List, famous American pianist, the all-star cast comprises Gail Russell, Ann Dvorak, Claire Trevor and Adolphe Menjou, with Billie Burke and Jane Wyatt.

YORK THEATRE Acclaimed as one of the ten best pictures of the year by both "Life" and "Time" magazines, "The Spectre of the Rose" is now showing at the York Theatre. Featuring Ivan Kirov, Judith Anderson and Michael Chekhov, it is a picture that bids fair to become a classic. The story of a ballet dancer, whose artistic genius is closely allied with madness and a ballerina who succumbed to a tempestuous love which endangers her very life.

ROYAL THEATRE "The Secret Heart," M-G-M drama, now showing at the Royal Theatre, marks the start of Robert Z. Leonard's 31st year as one of Hollywood's front-rank directors and his 39th year in motion pictures. The new picture stars Claudette Colbert, Walter Pidgeon and June Allyson. Leonard, who has directed more than 55 films, guided his first picture in 1916.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, March 25 (AP).—The direction continued downward in today's stock market, although selling never was particularly oppressive and a few leaders managed to negotiate mild recoveries.

Commission house customers either stood aside or trimmed commitments because of persistent skepticism over the international outlook, tax relief, business progress and a number of wage-price situations which may affect corprate profits. Professional traders accounted for most of the volume.

Many leaders closed off fractions to two or more points, a number at the day's bottom. The Associated Press 60-stock composite was off .3 of a point, at 64.4.

Toronto Stocks

TORONTO, March 25 (CP).—Stocks on the Toronto Stock Exchange today receded fractions to several points in a low volume and draggy trade with bidding weak throughout the day. Several point losses were posted by industrials while mining issues changed hands predominantly in fractions.

Papers weakened to level off yesterday's advances and closed on three or four point losses. Great Lakes, pfd., and St. Lawrence Paper, pfd., were standouts for point gains. Oils were down and utilities quiet, although Bell Telephone lost $1.

Mining issues were weak with senior golds posting several losses. Secondaries lost on a ratio of four to one. Base metals posted few minor gains.

Winnipeg Grain

WINNIPEG, March 24 (CP).—Rye futures prices on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange took their cue from the Chicago market, where advances were scored, and moved up in the deferred months. Fair shipper buying was evident in the July and October. Trading was dull except for a flurry near the close.

Premier in Spotlight

TORONTO, March 25 (CP).—D. B. McWilliams, Toronto, is organizing local support in opposition to a recommendation for dissolution of Premier Gold Mining Company, which is to come before the annual meeting, April 1. A. N. Wolverton, Vancouver, is reported to be taking similar action in the West.

Vancouver Stocks

VANCOUVER, March 25 (CP).—Mines showed little change this afternoon, while oils and industrials on the Vancouver Stock Exchange did little business, although not appearing to change drastically.

In the mines Bralorne at 11.60; Canusa, 21; Grandview, .20, and Pioneer, 3.80, were unchanged, while Congress moved up ¼ to 55, and Hedley Mascot fell 4, to 1.03.

Anaconda was unchanged at 5 in the oils, while Calmont fell 2½, to 26, and Home dropped 16, to 31. Only industrial to trade was B.C. Turf, which moved up 5, to 1.40.

London Market

LONDON, March 25. (Reuters).—British Government securities and other domestic issues showed general improvement during dull trading on the stock market today.

An exception to the firm trend in industrials was Guinness, which dropped sharply. Shipping issues generally recovered some of their previous losses. Foreign railways also were steadier, while home rail stocks showed little change.

Some South American issues, especially Brazilians, came in for fairly active trading in the foreign bond section.

South African gold issues turned dull, but most leading oils held firm.

U.B.C. Cagers Win Over Eagles 39-38

Varsity Takes Slim Lead Into Tonight's Final Coast Intermediate "A" Fixture

Varsity's hoopsters edged out Victoria's Eagles, 39-38, in the first game of a total-point series for the Coast intermediate "A" boys' title at Victoria High School last night. Gar Taylor's boys staged a fighting finish which almost gave them the victory over Jack Pomfret's squad. The students will take their slim lead into tonight's final game, which should prove equally as thrilling as last night's close tilt, which saw the Victorians come within one point of erasing a nine-point deficit in the final quarter.

Varsity, using a height advantage, were ahead all the way, leading 10-5 at the first quarter, and increasing their lead to 35-15 at the half-time whistle despite the fact that the birdmen rained enough shots on the students' basket to take a huge lead.

With lanky Bob Bell flipping in some great baskets from the bucket, Varsity were still ahead of the Victorians, 29-23, at the three-quarter mark. Outscrambling their taller opponents in the final quarter, the locals had possession a major part of the time and slim Howard Tooby finally got his sights adjusted to sink three long shots to close the gaps.

Two free shots by Jimmy Ranson, who played a great game for Eagles, brought the score to 37-36, and then both Ranson and Ellis missed easy chances on fast breaks. Wade scored on a looping shot for Varsity, and Eagles, trying valiantly to eke out a victory, matched that one with another lengthy shot by Tooby just before the final whistle sounded.

Bell, who was hard to stop all night, topped the scoring with 12 markers, while Red McMillan, of Eagles, was high for the locals with ten.

In a comic preliminary, a team of Victoria referees managed to outfoul a five-man Duncan arbiters' squad and win, 17-15. Only 16 personal fouls were called by Wally Smith and Wally Yeamans, pro tem referees. Reg Allan, of Duncan, was high scorer with a mere five points. K.V.'s edged their intermediate "B" boys' rivals, Tillicums, 26-24, in the other preliminary.

Varsity—Watt 4, Wade 5, Butchart 4, Bell 12, Barner 2, Hinde, Shaw 7, Swanson 3, Shugg, Thim. Total 39.

Eagles—J. McMillan 10, Tooby 7, Browning 1, Ellis 4, Long 3, Ranson 9, Slang, Reynolds. Total 38.

Duncan—Referee—Kennett, Fletcher 4, Prater 4, McDonald 2, Allan 5. Total 15.

Victoria—Referee—McMurchie 3, Harknett, Hope 4, Donaghy 3, Malcolm 1, Coates 4, McGuadrey, Thompson 2. Total 17.

Rangers Lucky To Finish Out of Cellar

By JOHN D. HAMILTON

NEW YORK, March 25 (CP).—Touching exhibition of loyalty: some 15,271 fans turned out Sunday night to see New York Rangers play Chicago Black Hawks despite the fact that the Rangers had blown their hockey play-off chances and the game didn't mean a thing! . . . Goalie Charles Rayner was presented with a cup from the West Side Association as the Rangers' most valuable player . . . It was the second year in a row he had won the award . . .

James (N.Y. World-Telegram) Burchard says of the Rangers:

. . . (There is) no indication that the situation will be improved next season. Even the old-timers viewed the future with alarm . . . "We need at least six new players," said one veteran. "No matter how you look at it, the Rangers have been lucky to beat out Chicago. Frank Boucher will have to give some kids a chance and throw out the greybeards. He's been gambling on flaming youth and old men. All of them have flopped. A complete rebuilding job is necessary."

Barney (N.Y. Journal American) Kremenko writes:

"If nothing else, the 1946-47 Rangers made a star prophet out of Manager Frank Boucher. The popular pilots said his club would finish out of the cellar and that's exactly what happened . . . Compared to previous years . . . The past campaign definitely comes under the heading of improvement."

List Top Scorers In School Soccer

Doug Betts, member of the league champion Mount View High School soccer team and Dave Whittingham of the runner-up Oak Bay team, tied for scoring honors with four goals each, in the recently completed Inter-High School Senior Soccer League. Jim Wright, Esquimalt and Ronnie McLeod, of Oak Bay, were tied for third, each with three markers.

In the Inter-High Junior League, Bobby Rowe, Victoria High Blacks' centre forward, was high scorer with seven tallies, three more than Jimmy Burns, of Oak Bay Whites. Five players shared the third spot, each with three markers. Art Manson, Mount View; Gary Webster and Stan Heal, Oak Bay Whites; and Ross Noel and Roy Derry, of Oak Bay Greens.

Players Collect For Idle Season

SAN FRANCISCO, March 25 (AP).—The San Francisco Pacific Coast League baseball club today paid the 1946 salaries and pennant-winning shares of two men who did not play with the club, but who contended they were denied jobs to which they were entitled under the G.I. Bill of Rights.

The Seals' secretary, Charles Graham, Jr., handed a cheque for $3,334 to Wallace Carroll, of Los Angeles, and for $5,184 to Henry Steinbacher, of Sacramento. Both were outfielders.

A court decision recently upheld Carroll's claim. Steinbacher's claim was paid without reaching court.

Russians Like Horse Racing Canuck Finds

By ROSS MUNRO

MOSCOW, March 25 (CP).—If a horse named Flashing Comet had displayed more speed on the home-stretch this Canadian would have made a certain amount of local history by modestly cleaning up on his first bet yesterday in the Russian daily double at Moscow's harness racing oval where Czarist nobility formerly squandered their rubles.

But my luck ran true to its usual Canadian form. A likely-looking horse called Terrible Revenge on which I had put my cash in the first race, made prospects exhilarating by romping home ahead of the field. But in the next race Flying Comet failed and my ticket joined those of many Russian horse players in the muddy puddles of the grandstand along with the ghost stubs of the Czarist losers.

The Russians like horse racing, and during the Winter and Spring they hold trotting races one day each week, no matter whether the mile track is covered with snow and frozen hard or whether it is ankle deep in slush.

The drab surroundings do not deter the basic enjoyment of the crowd — usually about 2,500—although they reacted to the proceedings in a much milder fashion than any of the racegoers I have seen. There was only one quiet murmur of encouragement as the favorites sped down the home stretch.

The running starts are ragged here and the only ones that seemed to be disallowed are when one of the five horses starting is at least ten yards ahead of the others passing the post.

The whole business, including the bettor, is state controlled and most of the stables are attached to Red Army regiments.

Oak Bay, Mt. View High Schools Draw in Colonist Cup Soccer

In a rousing Colonist Cup semi-final that produced some of the best high school soccer seen for many years, Oak Bay and Mount View High Schools yesterday battled to a 1-1 overtime stalemate at Royal Athletic Park before a good crowd of student supporters.

Mount View opened strongly and forced the play for the first ten minutes. Both teams missed close chances on goal before Doug Betts nudged in a loose ball that Paterson in the Oak Bay nets lost in the sun. Minutes later Glen Smith powered a flashing shot for the far corner of the Mount View citadel, but Gerald Ball pulled off a miraculous diving save.

Oak Bay assumed more and more of the play and came very close when Dennis Wells netted the upright from close in. Bill Hope put Betts away soon after, but he elected to pass and the chance was lost. Glen Smith came close again and then passed to Whittingham for another close Oak Bay chance. Half-time score was 1-0 for Mt. View.

With the sun and wind at their backs, Oak Bay were much the superior team in the second canto. After ten minutes of hectic goal-mouth scrambles, Ronnie McLeod got his toe to a loose ball to knot the count. Mt. View came back strongly for a short time but the Bays held them well away from goal. In the overtime, Ken Hill missed a great opportunity to win the game for Oak Bay when his shot on Whittingham's rebound flicked the corner of crossbar and upright on the wrong side. Paterson in the Oak Bay nets was called upon to clear from Betts and Kozak before Referee Neil Swainson's final whistle blew. The replay will be at Royal Athletic Park tomorrow at 2:45.

The teams:

Mount View—Gerald Ball, Eric Coles and Pat Smith, Murray Macdonald, Bill Hope, and Clive Watson; Fred Pennyhough, Norman Saunders, Doug Betts, Harold Gold and Lee Kozak. Subs: Stewart Price and Grant MacArthur.

Oak Bay—David Paterson; Ron Wright and Gordon Richelle; Jim Hill, Gerry Main and John Ponte; Glen Smith, Ronnie McLeod, Dave Whittingham, Ken Hill and Dennis Wells. Subs: Bob Sherratt, John Olson, Alex Mackabe, and Don Wilson.

Detroit Hopes For Pennant Rest on Mound

LAKELAND, Fla., March 25 (CP).—Hank Greenberg is just a memory around the Detroit camp, but all hands are keenly aware that somebody else must drive in those 127 runs if the Tigers are to be a pennant contender.

With the best pitching staff in baseball, built around Hal Newhouser, Dizzy Trout, Freddy Hutchinson and Virgil Trucks, the Bengals rate a good chance of catching Boston Red Sox if they can find the punch.

Dick Wakefield must make a real comeback from his disappointing .268 season, Roy Cullenbine must repeat a remarkable .335 year while playing a passable first bade, and Hoot Evers must be a 154-game player if the Tigers are to win. Even so they will have no one man who can hit 44 home runs or drive in 127 runs like big Hank.

Evers looked like the best rookie in Florida until he fractured a thumb and ankle in a St. Patrick's Day exhibition a year ago. He had just returned to the lineup in July when he suffered a jaw fracture in a collision with Second Baseman Eddie Mayo in Washington.

Birdie Tebbetts, Bob Swift and probably Harvey Riche, a Dallas graduate, will form the three-man catching staff.

Pitching is the Detroit strong suit, and scouts from other big league clubs are raving about Rookie Art Houtteman, a 19-year-old right-hander from Detroit who won 16 for Buffalo last Summer. If he can win a starting berth on the Tiger staff, Boston is in for a real fight.

Athletics Open Training Season Friday; 20 Signed

With 20 players already signed, two others stubbornly holding out for a fatter pay cheque and several more still to come from the parent New York Yankees, Victoria Athletics will open Spring training on Friday at their California camp.

The A's will train at Agua Caliente, in the heart of the redwoods country about 60 miles from Oakland, and move into their quarters the day after Oakland's Acorns leave.

The Victorians will be the first of four Yankee farm clubs to train there. Bisbee, Ventura and Twin Falls clubs will all congregate at the camp within a few days after the A's arrive.

Over 100 players are expected to be on hand and will be placed on the various clubs according to their ability after the impressive Yankees' coaching staff has given them careful inspection.

A far cry from last Spring, when they were forced for the most part to take players turned down by other clubs, the Athletics face the 1947 season with excellent prospects of a first-division club and a possible pennant contender.

Of the 20 players signed, 10 are pitchers and two more certain winners have been promised by Yankee officials. Max Hittle and Dick Mitchell, Binghampton; Bob Wittig, Twin Falls; Jim Gibson, Idaho Falls, and Bill Rothrock, Wellsville, are the moundsmen with experience in the New York chain. Joe Blankenship and Doug Oliver, from last year's club; Bill Prior, Legion right-hander, and Al Risso and Les Palmer, two promising semi-pros signed by Yankee scouts, round out the present hill corps.

Catching is still a question mark with only Joe Fontaine, Victoria-owned maskman with Idaho Falls last season, on hand, but it is expected that a capable receiver will be in the fold before long.

INFIELD SEEMS SET—NORBERT TO PLAY

Victoria's infield seems pretty well set with four players about a cinch as regulars on past performances. Frank Milani, former W.I.B.L. star, is expected to be at first base. Mike Hafenecker, with Norfolk in the Piedmont League last year, is the second baseman, while the highly-regarded Leo Righetti is billed for the short patch.

At third base should be a name familiar to Victorians. Babe Jensen, brother of Bob Jensen, is being counted on for the hot corner. Jensen had a good season with Twin Falls last year. Ron Castner and Bill Reynolds, two local youngsters, are also trying for berths.

For the outfield are Solomon Israel, hard-hitting Jewish fly-slinger who compiled an imposing record with Fond-du-Lac in 1946, slugging Olney Patterson, from Twin Falls, and Manager Ted Norbert, who should have considerable of his old power left and should find Class B hurling to his liking.

Bob and Bill White, the twin-brother combination from Binghampton who were expected to step in as regulars at first base and in the outfield, are still on the holdout list.

With W.I.B.L. clubs limited to 16 players unless more can be carried on a ruling for servicemen, the Athletics are almost ready for the start. One or two catchers, two more proven pitchers and a utility man would give Manager Norbert a promising opening-day line-up.

Athletics will break camp on April 15 and start north for the opener at Wenatchee on the 18th. Four games will be played and the Victoria opener against Yakima will follow on April 21.

CLEVELAND, March 25 (AP).—Smooth-functioning Jimmy Doyle, of Los Angeles, manoeuvred himself into a May shot at Ray (Sugar) Robinson's welterweight title last night, by winning a unanimous 10-round decision over Brooklyn's Danny Kapilow, before 8,621, at the Arena. Both fighters weighed 147.

Canadiens One Up In Cup Semi-Final

N.H.L. Champions Drive in Late Goals for 3-1 Victory Over Boston in Stanley Cup Play-Offs

MONTREAL, March 25 (CP).—Exploding for a pair of opportunity goals by Jimmy Peters and Johnny Quilty in the last eight minutes of a close-checking, tightly-played contest, Montreal Canadiens defeated Boston Bruins, 3-1, tonight before a crowd of 10,909 in the first game of their best-in-seven Stanley Cup semi-final.

Up to those last eight minutes, there was little to thrill the small play-off crowd as both teams played it close after each notched a goal in the first six minutes.

Kenny Smith had sent Bruins into a lead at the 2:30 mark of the first period when he pounced on Terry Reardon's net-mouth pass. Toe Blake evened it up at 5:58 as Bruins left the puck lying in the corner for Maurice Richard, who relayed it through Quilty to Blake.

With the minutes ticking off in the third period and the fans envisioning another overtime marathon—the two squads played three extra games in the final last Spring—Peters took advantage of another Bruin lapse to give the winners the margin they needed.

Kenny Mosdell carried across the Boston blueline was checked hard by Clarence Martin and the puck rolled to the corner. Peters, coming down the right boards like a streak, grabbed it and roared in on Frankie Brimsek unchecked to beat him cleanly.

Then Quilty clinched it as Canadiens laid back and waited for the breaks. Rocket Richard raced in on a breakaway, sizzled one at Brimsek and Quilty was Johnny-on-the-spot as he skidded in and banged home the rebound.

The husky Ottawa boy, called up from Springfield Indians of the American Hockey League at the tail end of the regular season, was used most of the game between Richard and Blake, and showed flashes of the form that won him the Calder rookie award in 1940-41 before he went into the armed services.

That helped Canadiens over the tough spot they were in in entering the semi-final without their star centre, Elmer Lach, and Pivotman Buddy O'Connor, both out with injuries.

Only six penalties were handed out by Referee King Clancy, although there was plenty of slam-bang play and hard bumping.

Seattle Juvenile Soccer Elevens Will Appear Here

Two Seattle juvenile soccer elevens, Skyway Park and Lake City, will make their first appearance here in a double-header at Heywood Avenue on Saturday afternoon. The Skyway Park team is scheduled to play Heaney's, winners of the Victoria juvenile second division league at 3 p.m., while the Lake City youngsters will oppose North Ward, division four titleholders, at 1:45 p.m.

The Seattle teams will be repaying a visit to the Sound City made by Herb Wetherell's North Ward team, during which the latter won one game and lost one.

The American teams are members of a Sound City league which is making great strides in the development of soccer players. Chris D'Arcy, brother of the late Jimmy D'Arcy, well-known local baseballer some years back, coaches the Lake City team. The visiting teams will play in Duncan, Sunday, against Fairbridge and Native Sons.

Navy, Bays Meet In Soccer Clash

Hudson's Bay and Navy, Wednesday Football League teams, will meet at Royal Athletic Park today at 7:30 p.m., in a Rennie & Taylor Cup soccer fixture in the second game of the series.

Navy lost 4-3 to Spencers in last week's opening clash, after a close battle and hope to mark up their first win in today's match.

Set Soccer Meeting

Victoria and District Football Commission will hold a meeting at the Army and Navy boardroom tonight at 8 p.m.

Release Final N.H.L. Scoring List

MONTREAL, March 25 (CP).—The hunting season is over for Max Bentley, of Chicago Black Hawks, who moved into the top spot in the N.H.L. scoring column two weeks ago, replacing Montreal's Maurice Richard, who held the upper hand in the point-collecting department for most of the 60-game schedule.

The shifty Chicago forward captured his second straight scoring championship by one point after staging a close neck-and-neck battle with Richard that drew more interest from hockey fans that the actual outcome of the year's standings.

Richard in 60 games captured the goal-scoring championship with 45 —an increase of 18 over last season.

In third place, eight points behind Richard, is Billy Taylor, of Detroit Red Wings.

Gus Mortson, of Toronto Maple Leafs and rookie defenceman, was the league villain with 133 minutes spent in the penalty box. Toronto held the dubious distinction of leading in team penalties with 671 minutes.

Goaling honors fell to Bill Durnan, who made hockey history by capturing the Vezina Trophy for the fourth consecutive season. The Canadiens' netminder had 138 goals scored against him in 60 games for an average of 2.30.

Removing an Obsession

By Dr. J. B. WARREN

An obsession is feeling you must do a certain thing which, when you think calmly about it, is a foolish, unnecessary thing to do. For instance, as a youngster you may have had the feeling you must touch each picket in a fence, step only on wood or stone going home from school or other senseless act. Something inside you "compelled" you to do it, though you knew it was foolish. The cure is brought about as we grow older by using our common sense and will power.

5 IN MEMORIAM

PARKER—In loving memory of our little Dorothy, who suddenly fell asleep March 26, 1931. Age 2 years, 9 months. Loved by all.

Only a thin veil between us,
Our loved one so precious and true;
Only a night before sunrise,
You are hidden away from our view.
We think of her sayings and treasure her smile,
And think you're not lost, but gone for a while.
We keep in our memory the love of the past,
For deep in our hearts it was planted [illegible]

Bill Concerns B.C. Laws Only

A British Columbia bill now before the House to end the war officially at midnight June 30 will not conflict with any Dominion controls, Attorney-General Gordon Wismer told the Legislature yesterday.

A bill to amend the Interpretation Act had been stood over from the day before because Opposition Leader Harold Winch had raised a question on extension of some Federal war measure controls for another year.

Yesterday Mr. Wismer said the amendment to the Interpretation Act would affect only provincial statutes and would not be in conflict with any Dominion policy.

H.C. Anderson Chief Engineer

Works Minister E. C. Carson announced yesterday that Harry C. Anderson, assistant chief engineer, had been made chief engineer of his department, and Neil M. McCallum, assistant paving engineer, named assistant chief engineer.

Mr. Anderson succeeds A. L. Carruthers, who became deputy minister upon retirement of Arthur Dixon recently.

Mr. Anderson joined the department in 1937 as assistant district engineer for Yale district. Since then he has served both at New Westminster and Victoria, becoming assistant chief in 1942.

Mr. McCallum, born at Slocan City, graduated from U.B.C. in 1923, was in charge of inspection of pavements and bridges for the city of Vancouver from 1924 to 1940 and superintendent of pavements and bridges in the Mainland city from 1940 to 1945, when he joined the Works Department.

Both men are veterans of the 1914-18 war.

Plans Announced For New Church

Impending purchase of property at Belmont and Begbie Streets from the city by the Anglican Synod for a new church in St. Barnabas' parish has been announced by Rev. E. G. Munn, church pastor.

The property is to be bought for $1,000, he said, and a committee will soon meet to discuss means of raising the necessary sum.

A new church in this location would bring the edifice in the middle of the parish, in contrast to the present location of St. Barnabas', which is on the outer boundary, he said.

Passion Cantata To Be Presented

"Olivet to Calvary," J. H. Maunder's Passion Cantata, will be presented by St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church choir augmented on Wednesday, April 2, at 8 p.m. in the church auditorium.

The soloists will be Miss K. Paulin, soprano; Stanley Honeychurch, tenor, and A. W. Trevett, baritone.

This work is in two parts: The first recalls the scenes which mark the last few days of the Saviour's life on earth, and some of the reflections suggested thereby. The rejoicing of the multitude with hosannas and palms, the view of Jerusalem from the steep of Olivet, the lament over the beautiful city, the scent in the temple, and the lonely walk back over the mount at night, form the chief features of the first part.

Part II. opens with the Supper of the Passover, at which Jesus washes his disciples' feet, and gives to His friends the new commandments of love for one another as the sign of true discipleship. From this the scene passes to the pathos of the Garden of Gethsemane, the sudden appearance of the hostile crowd, Jesus forsaken by His disciples, His utter loneliness among ruthless foes, the tumult before Pilate in the Judgment Hall, the Passage of the Cross, the tragedy and triumph of Calvary.

Work of Pupils At Night School Will Be Displayed

Night school students' work will be displayed at three centres this week as the classes for the 1946-47 session close, J. F. K. English, municipal school inspector, announced yesterday.

Exhibits will be under the direction of George Anstey, night school supervisor, and all displays will be open to the public.

At Victoria High School, on the two lower floors, at 8:30 p.m. Thursday there will be displays of boat construction, doll and toy making, dressmaking, cooking, leathercraft, machine shop work, painting and drawing, plumbing, recreational activities, technical drafting, sheet-metal work, steam engineering and wood working.

At Quadra Street Industrial Art Centre at 8 p.m. Thursday students of the woodworking class will exhibit their work. Friday evening at 8, in the old Oak Bay High School, there will be a display of oil and water color paintings and woodworking.

SURPRISE PARTY

The home of Mrs. J. Davidson, 117 St. Andrew's Street, was the scene of a surprise party recently when teachers and officers of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Sunday School entertained in honor of Mr. W. Priestley, who has been on the teaching staff for some time.

Mr. Priestley, who is leaving the city shortly for Edmonton, was presented with an oil painting by Mr. T. F. Baxter, superintendent, on behalf of the staff.

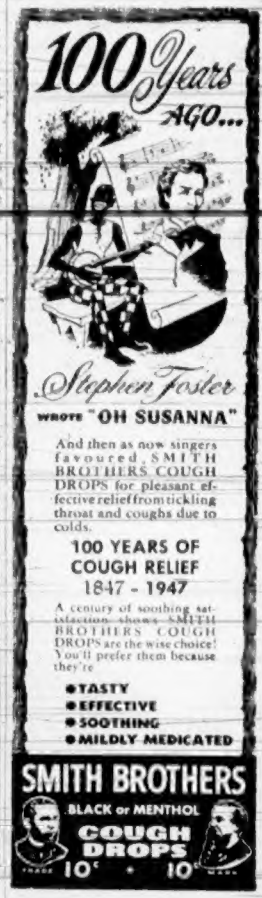

Those present included Mrs. J. Davidson, Mrs. J. Kennedy, Mrs. T. Baxter, Mrs. W. Scotney, Mrs. J. McLean, Misses I. Scott, M. Jones, M. Clay, J. Lawrence and Messrs. W. Priestley, T. Baxter, J. Kennedy and W. Scotney.

Second monthly student recital of the Music Teachers' Association was held at the Little Centre, Yates Street. Miss Una Calvert was in the chair and the following pupils took part in the program.

NEW TELEPHONE BILLING SYSTEM
in Effect With Your Next Bill

Growth of the B.C. Telephone Company has necessitated the adoption of a new billing system in order to assure utmost efficiency in the rendering of telephone bills. It will go into effect with your next bill.

This new system, known as Rotation and Machine Billing, is used by many of the larger telephone, water, gas, power and electric light companies. It is designed to overcome the many difficulties encountered by our accounting and business office staffs in rendering all telephone bills at the beginning of each month. Subscribers will benefit by receiving their telephone bills more promptly. In the case of our larger offices, the new system will relieve crowd congestion on bill payment days.

How You Will Be Billed

Instead of one billing date, subscribers' accounts will be divided into six billing dates—that is, bills will be issued on the 1st, 6th, 11th, 16th, 21st and 26th of each month, according to the area in which the subscriber receives telephone service.

Exchange service and directory advertising will be billed one month in advance, beginning with the date of the bill, as at present.

Long distance calls, inter-exchange calls and measured service will be billed for one month ending the day preceding the billing date on the bill.

Your Next Bill

Your next bill will be a "transition bill" to adjust your account from the old system to the new. Please read it carefully, as it will show your billing date and other information about your account under the new plan.

BILLING AND DISCOUNT DATES

The following will be the regular billing and discount dates under the new system:

	Billing Date	Discount Date		Billing Date	Discount Date
Albion	6th	23rd	Colquitz	6th	23rd
Beacon	16th	3rd	Empire	6th	23rd

BRITISH COLUMBIA TELEPHONE CO.

Kiwanis Club Addressed By Three Toastmasters

Kiwanis Club members appreciate the axiom about variety being the spice of life, at least as far as speakers' topics are concerned.

Yesterday, at a regular luncheon meeting at the Empress Hotel, they listened with interest to three members of the Victoria Toastmasters' Club, No. 38, whose addresses dealt with parks of British Columbia, compulsory automobile insurance, and "The Common Understanding." The toastmasters were introduced by Club Member E. M. Whyte, district governor of Area No. 1, Toastmasters' International.

Speaker C. P. Lyons was not surprised when only a handful of members could answer "yes" to his question: "Can you name three provincial parks in British Columbia."

11,000,000 ACRES IN B.C. PARKS

"There are no less than 54 provincial parks in British Columbia," he said, adding that "very few people know anything about them." These parks, he said, consisted of about 11,000,000 acres—an area which would completely blanket Switzerland, and which covered one and one-half times the area of Vancouver Island.

He stressed the importance of these parks as a tourist attraction, describing some of the larger ones as "sportsmen's paradises." The largest park on the North American continent, he added, was 150 miles north of Kamloops, and covered 1,000,000 acres. Here, he said, it was possible to travel 300 miles by river boat through eight lakes, surrounded by some of the most wonderful scenery to be found anywhere in the world.

Second speaker, H. W. Sparks, in his address on "Compulsory Automobile Insurance," was of the opinion such a plan—"although it has its good points"—was not the solution to the problem of reducing accidents. He mentioned the system in Manitoba where motorists pay a nominal fee each year toward a fund which provides for compensation of any person injured by an automobile. It applies, he added, whether the driver involved carries automobile insurance or not.

SAYS ACCIDENTS ARE REDUCED

After listing other details of the Manitoba scheme, the speaker claimed "this has led to a great decrease in the number of automobile accidents in that province." He noted British Columbia was now considering similar legislation.

"There cannot be a common peace without a common understanding," said Barry Goult, third and final speaker, in an address entitled: "The Common Understanding."

"Have we a common understanding between city and city, province and province, nation and nation?" he asked. His talk emphasized that people must get to understand one another to a far greater degree than prevails today. By way of illustration he recalled a recent trip to the United States. "While there," he continued, "people asked me such questions as 'Does Canada pay taxes to the King of England?' 'Are your harbors icebound throughout the Winter months?' 'Is Victoria a suburb of Vancouver?'"

Mr. Goult continued: "It works both ways. What do we know of South Africa, of India, of South America, its peoples and its problems?"

He concluded by remarking that it was the primary aim of toastmasters—of whom there are now 15,000 members in 450 clubs throughout the continent—to foster understanding between all people, through word of mouth.

These two youngsters, pupils of Cloverdale School, represented their class in presenting more than six dollars collected by the young students to Red Cross campaign officials yesterday. The pupils dropped their contributions in a box which was left in the classroom. This week the drive in Victoria passed the $60,000 mark. The objective is $65,000 in Victoria.

Opposition Sees Co-operatives Collecting Fish Forced to Pay

A government attack on the co-operative movement in the province was alleged by Opposition members in the House yesterday in committee, on an amendment to the Fisheries Act to make co-operative associations handling fish collection subject to licence under a new definition of fish buying stations.

Up to now, co-operatives handling fish collection have not been liable for the $25 licence fee. Under the amendment now before the House they will be placed in the same category as private enterprise buyers.

W. H. Brett (C.C.F., Prince Rupert), himself an executive of a northern fishermen's co-operative association, said the co-operatives had never been informed of the proposed change, and demanded to know who was responsible for it. He said co-operatives were not fish buyers, and merely did the handling for their own members.

SAYS DEPARTMENT IS RESPONSIBLE

Hon. L. H. Eyres, commissioner of fisheries, who will be minister when fisheries administration is raised to the status of a department, replied that "our own department" was responsible for the legislation. He said it was only right and just that persons picking up and transporting fish should be licenced.

"This is part of a general attack on co-operatives," asserted C.C.F. Whip Herbert Gargrave. "It withdraws from them certain privileges they have always enjoyed. The minister thinks they should be placed on the same footing as private enterprise, which shows that he doesn't know what it's all about. . . . The individual fisherman and the co-operative is going to get a dirty deal from the department if that is the attitude."

Mr. Eyres replied that the whole principle of the bill was "fairness and justice." He said it had been discussed with the co-operatives and had been on the order paper for 10 days without complaint. "It would be unfair to tax one man $25 and let another engaged in the same occupation go tax free," he added.

SEEK TO PROHIBIT FLOATING PLANTS

Questioned on an amendment to the bill to prohibit floating canneries, Mr. Eyres told Opposition Leader Harold Winch that it would, in effect, mean that a fisherman could not head or gut his catch on board. He said the purpose of the section was to prohibit floating processing plants.

"I can't see why fish can't be filleted or gutted on board," objected Mr. Gargrave.

"It is the policy of the Government not to allow it," replied Mr. Eyres.

Before the bill was reported complete as amended, Mr. Gargrave again challenged the minister's statement that co-operatives had agreed to the changes.

"I don't believe they have changed their minds on one of the fundamental principles of the co-operative movement," he declared.

Death of Baby Found Accident

Death of 18-month-old Donald Hall shortly after he was in collision with a milk truck about 11:30 a.m. Sunday was accidental, it was decided by a coroner's jury at Sands Mortuary yesterday morning.

The jury absolved the truck driver, Charles A. Musgrave, 1940 Quadra Street, of all blame in connection with the accident.

According to evidence given by ten-year-old Billy Hall, Donald's older brother, the baby ran towards the rear of the truck and came in contact with the right rear fender and bumper as it started up. The driver was seated in his panel truck when the child ran toward it, Billy stated.

Musgrave said he had not seen the child and had no knowledge of the accident until he was advised by police who approached him as he was continuing his milk delivery on Montreal Street.

Evidence was also given by Leslie Bentham, 61 Oswego Street; William Hall, the child's father, 55 Oswego Street, and Constable William Elliott, city police.

The jury included Otto Hagen, William Wigmore, Walter Neslinger, Joseph Neumeger, Richard Cassidy and John McLeod.

Wismer Will Consider Appointment Of Racing Commission for Province

Attorney-General Gordon S. Wismer indicated in the House yesterday that between now and the next session of the Legislature he will give further consideration to the appointment of a Provincial Racing Commission to control the conduct of track meetings throughout British Columbia.

He made the statement after Herbert Gargrave (C.C.F., Mackenzie) had asserted that horse racing was now big business in the province, and showing signs of further expansion, and that it was in the public interest that there should be Government supervision.

"A lot of money is going through the pari-mutuels, and I am not always satisfied that the public is getting a fair deal," Mr. Gargrave declared.

Mr. Wismer said he had considered the appointment of a commission in the past, before he again became Attorney-General, but was not ready to make any recommendations this session.

The subject was raised at the end of a protracted debate on the bill to amend the Horse Racing Regulation Act by taking out of the jurisdiction of municipalities the fixing of dates on which meetings may be held.

BUILDING PROVISION DELETED FROM BILL

In its original form Mr. Wismer's bill also contained provision for the operator of a track to erect or repair any buildings necessary for the conduct of a meeting. This provision was deleted from the bill by the Attorney-General yesterday.

He said it had been inserted in the first place to give the Lieutenant-Governor in council power to deal with the situation at the Willows, where Oak Bay zoning regulations would disentitle the owner of the track to make necessary repairs to buildings.

"Satisfactory arrangements have now been made so that racing can be continued for the time being at the track," Mr. Wismer told the House.

Questioned by A. J. Turner (C.C.F., Vancouver East) as to the meaning of "time being," Mr. Wismer replied that the arrangement was satisfactory to the Government and the racing association. He said he did not know for how many years the arrangement was to run, but added: "We are now satisfied not to take that power."

C.C.F. Leader Harold Winch described the answer as unsatisfactory, said a better explanation should be given of the entire situation, and declared: "Oak Bay Council has a lot of explaining to do yet."

WINCH MAINTAINS OAK BAY HEDGING

He maintained that there was no guarantee from the council that the holding of exhibitions would be protected, that the situation was ridiculous, and that Oak Bay was hedging.

Mr. Winch pointed out that the racing association was prepared to give a 20-year lease at $1 a year to the exhibition association, and had shown itself to be fair and aboveboard in its negotiations and offers, but declared that the House should have a great deal more information on Oak Bay Council's position.

The Attorney-General replied that Mr. Winch was confusing the issue.

"This is a bill to control racing in the province. It is not intended to interfere with the municipalities so far as type of building is concerned. The bill is satisfactory to the Government and the association, and we are not concerned with internal agreements," he said.

To a further question by Mr. Gargrave, the Attorney-General said the Lieutenant-Governor in council would have power to set dates for meetings here, either 14 days each at Colwood and the Willows or the whole 28 at the Willows.

With six week's racing a year on the Mainland and four weeks here, the Government did not feel justified at present in extending periods of racing, Mr. Wismer added.

Canadian Aid To Greece Wins Praise

More than 7 per cent of the present population of Greece are suffering from tuberculosis as a result of the privations endured during the war occupation, Dr. L. G. Polymenakos, former deputy minister of health of Greece, said here in an interview last night.

"Malnutrition is just one of our problems," he declared. "One-sixth of our people are homeless, as 1,400 communities were destroyed during the war, and there are 350,000 war orphans in the country, dependent on the state."

Dr. Polymenakos, who was taken prisoner by the Italians during the invasion in 1943, escaped in a boat and made his way to Egypt, where he served with the Greek Government-in-exile in Cairo. He is now in Canada on behalf of the Greek Red Cross and the Greek War Relief Fund.

He paid high tribute to the people of Canada for their aid in keeping the Greek people from starving since the end of the war.

Biggest needs for Greece today, he said, were medical supplies, food and clothing, and toward this end, the Greek War Relief Fund is launching a campaign March 5 to collect $1,500,000 for aid to the Greek people.

Tests Show Carbolic Repels Bees

As the result of a series of tests, beekeepers of the Island have determined that the addition of crude carbolic to the spray used for the control of tent caterpillars in this area will repel bees and thus save thousands of the useful insects from death through arsenic poisoning.

Concern has been expressed by beekeepers that the high death rate among bees that resulted last year from the effects of the caterpillar spray on trees, shrubs and flowers would be repeated this year. However, the addition of two and one-half to three ounces of crude carbolic to each 100 gallons of arsenic spray has been found to act as a repellent to bees and will keep them away from any plant or tree so treated. The carbolic does not reduce the lethal effect of the spray on caterpillars, it was stated.

In endorsing the findings of the beekeepers at their last meeting, Saanich councillors passed a resolution that the crude carbolic must be added to any spray used on municipal property.

TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

Ronald Robinson, Colquitz, was taken to the Royal Jubilee Hospital by city police yesterday afternoon following an accident at Slater's Mill, 345 John Street, where he is employed, a report stated. Police said the man was struck by a piece of wood.

Funeral Today For F. G. Eaton

Funeral services for Frederick George Eaton, 47, 912 Old Esquimalt Road, who died Sunday at St. Joseph's Hospital, will be held in the chapel of Sands Mortuary this afternoon at 3.

A well known resident of Esquimalt and a native Victorian, Mr. Eaton was employed with the Victoria Baggage Company for 20 years. Prominent in municipal affairs, he was elected to the Esquimalt Council in 1935-36. He served again on the council from 1940 to 1943 inclusive. In December, 1943, he ran against the late Reeve Lockley, but was defeated by a narrow margin.

Mr. Eaton was a veteran of the Great War and was in charge of First Aid Department of the A.R.P. in Esquimalt during the World War. He was active in the Esquimalt Parent-Teacher Association in 1946.

Rev. Irene Smith will conduct the funeral service and interment will be at Royal Oak.

COMOX OYSTER TRAPS COURTENAY MOUSE

A Resident of Courtenay Procured Several Oysters at Comox, Left Them on the Back Porch of His Dwelling Overnight, and Was Amazed to Find the Above Tableau the Next Morning. Apparently the Oyster Opened Its Shell, the Curious Mouse Investigated, and Lost Its Life When the Shell Closed Like a Trap.

Nanaimo Business Block Damaged in Fierce Fire

NANAIMO, March 25.—The original Odd Fellows Block, on Commercial Street, a two story and basement wooden structure, and one of the oldest buildings in the city, was threatened with destruction by fire this afternoon.

Smoke was seen pouring from the basement of the premises occupied by The Clark & Biggs Radio Sales and Repair shop at 1:45 p.m. and when the fire brigade arrived flames had spread to other portions of the building. It was a two-hour job for the firemen before everything was under control.

Fire Chief J. Anthony could give no accurate estimate of the damage this evening, but stated that it would be several thousand dollars. Tons of water were poured into the building, and the perishable nature of the contents, through water and smoke damage, makes the losses heavy.

The building was purchased two years ago from the Busby estate by Mrs. Jean Burns, who conducts a ladies' wear store next door, but had reserved r portion of the building for a display room. Goods there were badly damaged. The radio firm lost heavily, and other losses were suffered by the Knight Book and Confectionery store; W. Lindsay, chiropractor, in the second story; the Baxter Photographic Studio, second story; the Kennedy Drug Store, and the Anderson Ladies' Wear store, on the southern portion of the ground floor.

Four Criminal Cases Listed

NANAIMO, March 25.—When the Spring Assize Court opens here on March 31, four criminal cases and eight civil cases are listed for trial, and trials are expected to last for three weeks.

The criminal cases are: Rex vs. Bonzell, manslaughter; Rex vs. Berthiaume, manslaughter; Rex vs. Malatestmica, statutory offence, and Rex vs. Moreno, theft.

In the civil section cases docketed are: Webb vs. Webb; Wilson vs. Van Houten; Hinkaman vs. Nanaimo Sawmills Ltd.; H. Singh vs. Universal Manufacturing Company; Peterson vs. Peterson; Lubinich vs. Lubinich; Green vs. Howitt et al, and Armishaw vs. Crucil.

Boxing on Friday At Port Alberni

PORT ALBERNI, March 25.—Everett Biggs, of Alberni Athletic Association, will box James Langston, of Haney Boxing Club, here on Friday night. Both middleweights are reported to be in top condition.

Other boxers to appear in preliminary bouts include James Dumont, William Langston, Leo Chan, J. Knighton, David Smythe, William Bell, Daniel Nisyok, Ted Roberts, William Commodore, Conrad Lloyd, J. Gallic, Ronald Gray, Arthur Moore, Gerry Gorden, B. Doucette and William Hamilton.

Win Cup at Parksville

PARKSVILLE, March 25.—Ralph Forrester scored the winning goal on a penalty kick in the second half to give Qualicum the Phoenix Challenge Cup in a soccer match against Parksville Sunday afternoon. The score was Qualicum, 1-0. Plans are being discussed to revive the Parksville, Qualicum and Lantzville League to play for the Merchants Cup.

Sooke Association Selects Officers

SOOKE, March 25.—Sooke Athletic Association voted $25 towards the inhalator fund, during a meeting in Sooke Community Hall. Plans for showers at club headquarters were discussed. Arrangements will be made to hold an entertainment in May.

Club officers elected were: Eric Bernard, honorary president; Mrs. F. G. Gray, president; Col. J. Aitken, honorary vice-president; Allan Quinn, vice-president; Charles Crawford, secretary-treasurer; William Cairns, Arthur Morris, James Arden and E. Michaelsen, directors.

Plan Errington Troop

ERRINGTON, March 25. — Re-establishment of Errington Boy Scout Troop was discussed during a meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. King. Those elected to a committee for the purpose included Mr. and Mrs. R. Arkell, Mrs. J. Kirkpatrick and Mrs. J. Booth.

Duncan Bleachers

DUNCAN, March 25. — Cowichan Agricultural Society intends to erect bleachers at the Agricultural Grounds. A heating plant formerly used in the gymnasium at Nanaimo Army Camp is being installed in Agricultural Hall.

Buy New Hall At Parksville

PARKSVILLE, March 25. — Authority to erect a suitable building for a community hall at Community Park will be sought at a meeting of Community Park Society on Friday in Parish Hall at 8 p.m.

A campaign for raising funds to develop the project will open on Saturday, and the hall committee is relying upon the co-operation and enthusiasm of the community to support the project.

The building, an army gymnasium, will be dismantled in sections by a special crew at Nanaimo, and transported to Parksville by local trucks.

Today the cost of erecting a building of this size, 60 by 100 feet, containing 65,000 board feet and a floor space of 6,000 feet, would be approximately $42,000. The hall committee is getting it at a cost of $3,000 from the Nanaimo Army Camp, where it was built at a cost of $22,000.

Last Saturday members of the hall committee were on the job. Volunteers turned out to assist in clearing a site in front of the ball field, with equipment donated for the purpose.

At a meeting Sunday evening the following were selected to distribute circulars to every house in the district: Kenneth Marshall, Russel Shelley, William Banks, Walter Yeo, Stanley Johnson and J. Kinsley.

Locker Plant At Parksville

PARKSVILLE, March 25. — Plans for a quick-freeze locker to be built on a 60-foot frontage on the business section of the Shelley subdivision are under way. The building of wooden construction, will contain 300 lockers between five and six cubic feet each, will be built at an approximate cost of $25,000, and if possible completed and in operation by July to accommodate this year's fruit crop.

Ernest Creighton, formerly of Crayharven Inn, and his father, I. H. Creighton, are co-owners of the new business venture.

Errington Drama Event Discussed

ERRINGTON, March 25. — Miss Anne F. Adamson, acting director of community drama, spent a few hours at Errington on her way to Courtenay and the Forbidden Plateau, where she is vacationing for a few days. The executive of E.D.A. Players had the privilege of meeting her at the home of Mrs. Robert Price.

Miss Adamson has had considerable experience in the field of community drama, having worked under Major L. Bullock-Webster. She gave the players much helpful information about procedure to be followed in putting on a drama festival. This is a new enterprise in this part of the Island, and it is hoped that both adult and school groups will co-operate and take sufficient interest in the festival that is planned for April 17 and 18.

Miss Adamson said that community drama had sustained a great loss when Major Bullock-Webster retired last year. He had devoted his whole life to furthering the cause of community drama in isolated country places, and had traveled far and wide both on this continent and in the Old Country to study conditions, and had great understanding of the difficulties that small groups were up against.

Ladysmith Names Softball Leaders

LADYSMITH, March 25.—At a meeting of Ladysmith Softball Association presided over by D. H. McKay in the Travelers Hotel, the financial statement showed a balance of $60. Officers elected were: Pete Hawryluk, president; Mr. McKay, vice-president, and Robert Stevens, secretary.

The association plans to affiliate with Vancouver Island Softball Association. Ladysmith expects entries from three senior teams, Travelers, New Western and Legion; one teenage team, the Canteen Club, and one women's team, the Odeon Cubs.

It is hoped that two junior teams will be organized. Entries must be in by April 11, and the first league game will be played on April 27. Odeon Cubs will enter the Central Island Women's League.

Langford Liberals Choose Officers

LANGFORD, March 25.—Herbert Gray was elected president of the Langford Liberal Association at the annual meeting here tonight. Mrs. A. S. Bayles was named vice-president and S. T. Taylor secretary-treasurer.

Retiring President Edward Clark, in his annual report, said the past year had been very successful, and 100 per cent increase in membership was noted.

New executive includes S. Allan, F. Pellett, T. T. Pollan, Mrs. H. Gray, Mr. W. [illegible] and S. T. Taylor.

Duncan Baseball Outlook Bright

DUNCAN, March 25.—Duncan will have two teams entered in the Mid-Island Baseball League this year, instead of the three as of last year. The Olympic Club is certain of a league franchise, and it is believed the second Duncan team will be entered by the Canadian Legion.

The Legion has an abundance of material, and a number of good players from the disbanding teams will be available.

BANQUET AT LADYSMITH

LADYSMITH, March 25. — Women's Auxiliary to Ladysmith Branch No. 171, Canadian Legion, will meet in Legion Hall at 8 p.m. Thursday to discuss the menu and catering for a banquet to be held by the branch.

LANGFORD LEGION TO MEET

LANGFORD, March 25. — Prince Edward Branch of the Canadian Legion will meet in Colwood Hall at 8 p.m. next Tuesday.

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

"PERFIDIOUS ALBION"

"Beyond the Pillars of Hercules is the ocean which flows around the earth, and in it are two very large islands called Britannia, viz., Albion and Ierne (the ancient Greek name for Ireland)."

In those words from the ancient Greek treatise on "The World," attributed to Aristotle, we have a significant item on the more rewarding part of this phrase, "Perfidious Albion," for which a reader inquires. For "Albion," the most ancient name of the Island of Britain, has long been the subject of a misconception—the popular story that it was bestowed upon the island by Julius Caesar in allusion to the White (albus) Cliffs of Dover.

The source of the quotation above, where Britain is already named "Albion," is 300 hundred years earlier than the invasion by Caesar.

Also, as early as the fifth century B.C., there is Festus Avienus's account of the voyage of Hamilcar, the Carthaginian, in which the term "Albiones" applies to the inhabitants of the British Islands.

It seems that Albion was the original Celtic name for all of Britain, and that it was subsequently restricted to the provinces of Scotland north of the firths of Clyde and Forth at the time that the Celts became more or less confined to those parts.

"Perfidious Albion," usually attributed to Napoleon I, undoubtedly owes the extent it is known to his utterance after the rupture of the Peace of Amiens in 1803, when the expression was circulated generally by the French press. However, a Frenchman almost 200 years earlier used the words "Perfidiousa England." It was Jacques Benigne Bossuet—the work in which they appeared, his "First Sermon on the Circumcision."

Dustbane Sweeping Compound — for basements, garages, or any type floor, absorbs dust as the floor is swept! No mess — no bother!

Painters know that it pays to use a quality paint — one that will stand up stoutly to wear and weather. That's why so many painters use — so many leading dealers sell — C-I-L PAINTS.

It takes no more time to apply a good, dependable paint than it does to use an inferior product. And time — not the paint itself — is the chief cost item in a painting job. So when you paint — whether a chair, a room or a house — choose a paint which will give you lasting beauty and protection.

ARE YOU A "Wish-I-Could?"

IT'S amazing how many times you hear "I wish I could smoke a pipe" . . . especially when the solution is so very simple. Having decided to smoke a pipe it's best to start off with a Burley tobacco. It will keep your tongue cool, and once you light up it stays lit.

Picobac is the pick of the Burley crop, grown in sunny southern Ontario, where climate and soil are the secret ingredients of Canada's most popular pipe tobacco.
